

ALUMNI NOTES.

Conducted by JOHN JAY.

[Graduates are invited to contribute to this column.]

'52—The reunion of the class of '52 will be held on Tuesday, June 29, and not on Thursday, as stated recently in The Weekly.

'64—The note in the last issue of the Weekly stating that Mr. Selah Brewster Strong, '64, had been married to Miss Lefferts is an error, which arose from confounding Mr. Strong's name with that of Selah Brewster Strong, who is not a Yale graduate. He is the son of Thomas S. Strong, '55.

'72—Waller Bennett was, on January 12, elected President of the Madison National Bank, of Richmond, Ky.

'76—Prof. Arthur T. Hadley has an article on "Trusts and the Problem of Restraining Them" in the Atlantic Monthly for March.

'76—Hon. Charles N. Fowler, United States Representative from New Jersey, was a guest of the Massachusetts Reform Club at its dinner held in Boston, Friday evening, February 12. Mr. Fowler delivered an address.

'77 T. S.—Rev. Henry T. Sell has accepted a call to the First Congregational church of Tabor, Iowa.

'77—John F. Keator has an article in the current number of the American University Magazine on the "Yale Alumni Association of Philadelphia."

'77—J. B. Atwater has been appointed by the Comptroller of the Currency, receiver for the Columbia National Bank, which recently failed at Minneapolis, Minn.

'78—The marriage of Henry W. Lamb and Mrs. Emily Hotchkiss took place in New Haven, Thursday, February 18.

'85—Edward H. Chandler has resigned from the pastorate of the Union Church, Taunton, Mass. He will begin work in his new position as pastor at Wellesley, March 14.

'87 S.—Dr. Charles S. Jewett has changed his address from Woodlawn Avenue to 888 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

'87—Ira C. Copley was recently elected President of the State League of Republican Clubs of Illinois at a meeting held in Peoria.

'89—Horace Stokes has just returned from Vienna, where he has been giving lectures in the German language on medical topics.

'89—H. F. Noyes, mechanical draughtsman and engineer, has recently opened an office in New York City. His residence is "The Imperial," Bedford Avenue and Pacific Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

'90 S.—Lawrence Heyworth and Miss Cecilia Young were married in Chicago, Ill., Wednesday, February 17. J. O. Heyworth, '88, was best man.

'91 S.—Brown Caldwell, Secretary of the Peerless Rubber Manufacturing Company, of 16 Warren Street, New York City, is at present representing that company in Chicago, and is temporarily located at the Auditorium Hotel.

'91—G. P. Putnam's Sons have recently published a book entitled, "Essays on French History—the Rise of the Reformation in France—the Clubs of the Jacobins," by James Eugene Farmer. Master in History and English, St. Paul's School, Concord, N. H.

'92—C. L. Wooding has been made Superintendent of Schools at Bristol, Conn.

'92 S.—John H. Hammond has left the office of Parsons, Shepard & Ogden and has entered the law office of the Erie Railroad as assistant to the General Solicitor at 21 Cortlandt Street, New York City.

'93—George E. Folk has changed his address to Marble Falls, Texas.

'93—J. Weston Allen has been admitted to the Suffolk County Bar Mass.

'93—The engagement is announced of Miss May Potts of Carrollton, Ill., to William T. Capps.

'93—Charles R. Hickox, jr., and Robert B. Wade were admitted to the bar of the State of New York, Tuesday, February 16, 1897.

'93 L. S.—John Hone, jr., has resigned his position with the law firm of Carter & Ledyard, and has opened a law office at 62 New Street, New York City.

'93—Frederick W. Yates is now filling the position of managing clerk and assistant in the law offices of George W. Cotterill, 32 Nassau Street, New York City.

'93—Arthur P. Lord was married to Marion Irene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Anderson Louderback, of San Francisco, Cal., at the American Church, Avenue de l'Alma, Paris, France, Monday, February 8, 1897, at noon. The Vicar of Ashton-on-the-Mersey officiated, assisted by the Rev.

J. B. Morgan. The best man was Arthur C. Nash, of Geneva, N. Y. A reception was held after the ceremony at the residence of the bride's father in Paris. Mr. and Mrs. Lord will reside at 11 Villa du Pont, Rue Pergolese, Paris.

'94—G. M. Crawford is a reporter for the Topeka, Kan., Daily Capital.

'94—P. A. Brown is now in the United States artillery service of Leavenworth, Kans.

'94—W. B. Allison is assistant clerk to the Senate Committee on Appropriations.

'94—A. N. C. Fowler has been admitted to the bar and has opened an office at Glens Falls, N. Y.

'94—Frank L. Peck was admitted to the bar of the State of New York on Tuesday, February 16, 1897.

'94—W. S. Walcott is no longer engaged on the United States Topographical Survey for the State of New York, but is now working in Indian Territory on the Geographical Survey, where he expects to remain until July 1, 1897. Letters sent to New York Mills, N. Y., will, however, reach him.

Obituary.

CHARLES T. H. PALMER, '47.

Charles T. H. Palmer, '47, died Thursday, February 18, at his home in Berkeley, California. Mr. Palmer was born January 15, 1827. After graduating from college he studied law for two years in the office of Judge L. Foster, of Norwich, Conn. He then went to California in 1849, and engaged in business there. In 1857 he married Miss Hattie K. Day, granddaughter of President Jeremiah Day, of Yale College. Mr. Palmer subsequently became president of the Oakland Paving Company.

FREDERICK P. MILES, '76 S.

Frederick P. Miles, '76 S., died at his home in Lakeville, Conn., February 19, of Bright's disease. He was 43 years of age. Mr. Miles was the son of the late Frederick Miles. He was born in Goshen, where he lived the first three years of his life, removing with his father to Chapinville in 1857. He entered the Sheffield Scientific School in the fall of 1873, and was graduated in 1876. On the 26th of February, 1881, he married Miss Clara Gray, of Goshen, and four years later moved to Lakeville. In partnership with his brother, William Miles, he owned the iron works at Copake, N. Y., and until the time of his illness, a few weeks ago, he took an active part in the management of the business. Mr. Miles was always deeply interested in town affairs. For several years he was president of the Lakeville water works. Mr. Miles was an enthusiastic Republican, and took an active part in politics, but at no time did he occupy a political position. His wife and two children, Richard K. and Emily C. Miles, survive him.

WALTER MURPHY, '82.

Walter Murphy, whose death at Salt Lake City, Utah, on February 5, was announced in the last number of the Weekly, was a member of the class of '82, entering college in his Junior year. After he left Yale, he went to the Law School of the University of Pennsylvania, where he took the degree of LL.B. in 1884. He then began the practice of law, and later published several law books. In 1884 he published an essay entitled, "Remainders to Children as a Class," for which he was awarded the Sharswood prize at the University Law School. "A Digest of the Partnership Law of Pennsylvania," and "A Digest of the Corporation Law of Pennsylvania" were also books published by him. He practiced law in Philadelphia until the fall of 1888, when he moved to Salt Lake City and entered into partnership with Hon. J. G. Sutherland. He lived in Salt Lake City till the time of his death.

Holy Cross Athletic Games.

The Holy Cross Athletic Association held its second annual games on Monday, February 22, in its gymnasium at Worcester. Holy Cross defeated Yale in the two-mile relay race by seventy-five yards, the time being 7 m. 30 s. The following Yale men won places: S. K. Gerard, '97, with a foot and a half handicap, was third in the thirty yards dash, invitation, and also third in the same distance open event, having the same handicap; F. Boardman, '97, with a handicap of thirteen yards, finished third in the 600-yards run.

At the second meet of the Yale Gymnastic Association, H. L. Hoffman, '97 having scored the most points, was judged the College champion for 1897, and wins the right to wear the "Y."

LONG ISLAND ALUMNI.

Elaborate Banquet Served in Brooklyn, February 16.

The Yale alumni Association of Long Island held its annual dinner Tuesday evening, Feb. 16, at the Brooklyn Club, in the city of Brooklyn. About seventy-five Alumni were present, in addition to the speakers named below. Mr. Grenville Parker, '98, assisted by some of the former members of the Yale Glee Club, led the singing of old college songs, in which the alumni joined heartily. The menu and toast list were in the form of a Yale diploma, printed in Latin, and abundantly decorated with blue ribbon, ostensibly conferring upon those present the degree of Doctor of Gastronomy, together with the "gaudia, honores, dolores, poenas, quae apud nos ad Gradum Doctoratum evectis concedi soleant." It is here reproduced:
