Next will follow the conferring of honorary degrees by the President. The Commencement choir which will render the music at these exercises consists of the College Choir, and members of the First and Second Glee clubs, together with several others, and has been trained under the supervision of Mr. H. B. Jepson.

ALUMNI DINNER.

At 2 o'clock the dinner of the Alumni will take place in Alumni Hall, and at 9 o'clock the President will hold a reception to the Alumni in the Art School.

The Class Orator.

Charles Heitler Studinski, of Pueblo, Col., class orator of the Class of Ninety-Seven, prepared for College at the Pueblo High School and attended the University of Colorado for two years, entering Yale in the Junior year. He has been an active member of the Yale Union and was its President during the past term. Mr. Studinski was an alternate on the team which debated against Harvard in 1896, and a member of the victorious team against Harvard of this year. He won the Thatcher prize in 1897, offered for the best debater in the Academic Department.

The Class Poet.

Robert Lewis Munger, of Ansonia, Conn., Class Poet of the Class of Ninety-Seven, was born in Ansonia, July 6, 1875. He prepared for college at the Hopkins Grammar School, where he was an editor of the school paper, "The Fence." He was Chairman of the "Courant," and a member of Chi Delta Theta. His contributions in poetry to the "Lit." have been the best from his Class.

CLASS REUNIONS.

Details of the Various Meetings of Next Week.

The regular class reunions of twelve Academic classes will be held on Tuesday of Commencement week and full particulars of their arrangements are given below for the convenience of their members.

FORTY-TWO.

Of the Class of 1842, 108 men graduated, and of those twenty-three are living. The wide scattering of the Class will prevent a very large attendance at their fifty-fifth anniversary reunion this year.

FORTY-SEVEN.

Out of the 124 who graduated in the class of 1847, 27 are living. Room C, Osborn Hall, will be at the disposal of the Class, for its fiftieth anniversary, and two meetings will be held there, one on Monday, June 28, at 3 p. m., and the other at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning.

FIFTY-TWO.

It is the ninth reunion of the Class of 1852 that will be held on Tuesday, June 29th. A large number of the Class have signified their intention of being present, and it seems as if the reunion this year will be in every way as successful as the eight former ones were. The Class Secretary, A. N. Lewis, of Montpelier, Vt., desires information concerning the following, before June 28th, 1897: William B. Clarke, George R. Edmonds, Thomas Dunlap, Matthew W. Edmonds, Benjamin C. Flake, James R. Frisbie, Alvin P. Hildredth, Fleming J. McCarthy, Jesse McCurdy, who was graduated at Dartmouth; D. Hastings Mason, Alonzo Megarge, Washington H. Merritt, William N. Richardson, Cyrus A. Royston, Daniel T. Russell, Theron W. Towner, George C. Tucker, George S. Williams, Giles B. Williams.

The details for Tuesday are as follows: Business meeting, 12m., Room B1, Osborn Hall. Banquet at Academy Hall, 890 Chapel Street, between Temple and Church Streets. "Former members" of the Class are especially invited.

FIFTY-SEVEN.

The fortieth anniversary of the Class of 1857 is in charge of a committee consisting of Arthur M. Wheeler, Samuel Scoville and Robert Brown, who have made full arrangements for the comfort of the members of the Class and their families. The Class headquarters will be in Room C2, Osborn Hall, which will be kept open at all hours. The following program for Tuesday has been arranged: Business meeting in Room C2 in the morning. Shortly before noon the Class will leave for the Observatory grounds, where a luncheon will be tendered by one of the committee. In the afternoon a special car has been secured to take the Class to the Yale-Harvard baseball game. At 9 p. m. the Class supper will be served at the rooms of the Womans' Exchange, at No. 151 Orange street, between Chapel and Court street, on the ground floor.

SIXTY-TWO.

The thirty-fifth anniversary reunion of the Class of 1862 will be held on Tuesday, June 29. It is expected that a large number of the Class will be present. The business meeting will be held in Professor Kitchel's room, 8 Phelps' Hall, at noon, Tuesday. The Class Dinner will be held in the County Court House on Tuesday evening, at a time to be decided at the meeting.

ROBERT LEWIS MUNGER.

SIXTY-SEVEN.

Each member of the Class of 1867 will please register on his arrival at New Haven at the Yale Library. The following schedule has been arranged: Business meeting in D1, Osborn Hall, at 11 a. m., Tuesday; Class photograph on steps of Osborn Hall at 12 m.; Yale-Harvard baseball match at 3 p. m.; Class supper in the Yale Law Library Building, Elm street, at 7 p. m. A full attendance is earnestly requested in order that the reunion may be most successful.

SEVENTY-TWO.

The arrangements for the twenty-fifth anniversary reunion of the Class of 1872 have been announced in a circular issued several weeks ago. The members are requested to register at the Yale Co-operative Store immediately on their arrival. There will be a business meeting of the Class in Room E1, Osborn Hall, on Tuesday morning, June 29th, at half-past ten. An informal reception and lunch for members of the Class, their wives and children, will be held at one o'clock, at the New Haven Lawn Club on Whitney Avenue. From there they will go to the Harvard-Yale baseball game in barges. In the evening at eight o'clock the Class supper will be held at the New Haven Lawn Club House.

Members of the Class are requested to send their photographs to W. L. Cushing, Dobbs' Ferry, N. Y., if they have not done so, and also to write the Class Secretary all facts concerning their history since January, 1892, to aid him in preparing the Class Record from that time.

SEVENTY-SEVEN.

Out of the 117 members who graduated in 1877, it is expected that sixty will be present. Application for seats at the Yale-Harvard baseball game for the Class has been made. The business meeting will be held in F1, Osborn Hall, at noon Tuesday. The Class Supper will be served in the Library of the Yale Law School building, on Elm street. Maresi of New York will be the caterer. The Class of 1877 will be the last one to attend prayers in the Old Chapel.

EIGHTY-TWO.

The quinquennial meeting of the Class of 1882 should be attended by 60 or more members of the Class. The committee has made the following arrangements: Business meeting will be held at the class headquarters, Room E2, Osborn Hall, at 11 a. m. At 2 p. m. a special car will convey the Class to the Yale-Harvard baseball game, where seats have been secured. The Hartford City Band has been engaged for the afternoon and evening. The Class dinner will be served by Sherry of New York at the Anderson Gymnasium, 307 York street, at 7 p. m. Kent Hall, a new apartment building for students, on the corner of York and Wall streets, has been secured for the accommodation of the members of the class. Forty rooms may be had there at $1.00 per day. Members wishing rooms there should notify the secretary at once.

The following men compose the committee in charge of the reunion: John P. Kellogg, Howard H. Knapp, Arthur S. Osborne, secretary, and William S. Pardee.

EIGHTY-SEVEN.

The decennial reunion of the Class of 1887 will be held on Tuesday, June 29. A business meeting will be held at noon Tuesday, and the Yale-Harvard game will be attended in the afternoon. The Class Dinner will be held in Lenox Hall, at 6:30 p. m., and a number of speeches will be given. The committee in charge are O. G. Jennings, Sanford E. Cobb, James R. Sheffield and Professor W. L. Phelps.

NINETY-ONE.

For the sexennial reunion of the Class of 1891, all arrangements have been completed and a large number are expected. The program is as follows: 11:30 a. m., business meeting, followed by Class Prayer Meeting; 3 p. m., Yale-Harvard baseball game, for which a band has already been engaged; 6 p. m., procession around the Campus, starting at Osborn Hall and ending at Harmonie Hall, where the Class supper will be held. The Class dues are $2 and the supper assessment $5.

NINETY-FOUR.

At the Triennial reunion of the Class of 1894 it is expected that about 140 men will be present. The headquarters of the Class during triennial will be in 176 Lyceum, where members are requested to report and register. The Committee have relinquished their intention of securing a special car for the Yale-Harvard-Cornell boat race, as the fact that the race takes place on Friday, June 25, the week before Triennial, makes it improbable that a large number of the Class will be able to attend. However, seats have been secured by application to the President of the Navy, Mr. J. S. Wheelwright, New Haven, Conn., who reserved a number together for the Class.
