

ALUMNI NOTES.

Conducted by JOHN JAY.

[Graduates are invited to contribute to this column.]

'54—A memorial window in memory of the late Governor Luzon B. Morris, '54, of Connecticut, has been presented to the Center Church, New Haven. Mr. C. M. Pratt, of Brooklyn, N. Y., is the donor.

'61.—Alfred Hemenway, of Boston, Mass., has recently been attending the exercises of graduation week at the Naval Academy, Annapolis, as a member of the Board of Visitors, appointed annually by the Government.

'74.—Henry de F. Weeks, was elected treasurer of the Union Club at the meeting held in New York, June 9. H. W. De Forest, '76, was appointed a member of the House Committee.

'76—Professor A. T. Hadley will have an article in the July number of the Atlantic Monthly, entitled "Some new facts about Municipal Ownership."

'79S.—John C. Gallagher has been appointed assistant clerk of the Superior Court for the County of New Haven, Conn.

'83.—Dr. Francis B. Kellogg has removed from Tacoma, Washington, and opened an office at 420 West 6th Street, Los Angeles, California.

'85.—The marriage of Miss Margaret Muldoon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Muldoon, to George W. Norton, took place at the home of the bride's parents in Louisville, Kentucky, on Tuesday, June 8.

'87.—G. E. Hill has been elected County Health Officer of Fairfield County, Connecticut.

'87—The marriage of Walter B. Chambers to Miss Ethel Notman, was solemnized in the Reformed Church, Brooklyn, N. Y., on Wednesday evening, June 9. J. R. Sheffield, '87, was one of the ushers.

'90S.—Dr. J. M. Murdock, is superintendent of the new State Institution for the Feeble-Minded of Western Pennsylvania, at Polk, Pa. The new building, which is built on the cottage plan is one of the largest and finest in the country. It is 1,400 feet long and will accommodate 700 or 800 patients. Dr. Murdock was for four years physician at the Western Pennsylvania Hospital for the Insane at Dixmont. He was the youngest of the seven applicants for his present position.

'91.—William D. Rorer has been elected principal of the Girl's Public School of Philadelphia, Pa.

'91S.—The marriage of Francis A. Clark to Miss Ada Estelle Borst, took place Wednesday evening, June 9th, at the home of the bride's mother, 144 West Thirteenth Street, New York. Rev. Dr. Howard Duffield, officiated.

'91.—The marriage of Miss May Churchill, daughter of the late Frederick H. Churchill, '70S., to George Sherman Talcott, took place at the home of the bride in New Britain, Conn., Wednesday, June 9. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. Frederick Talcott, the bride being given away by her brother, William Churchill, '97. William B. Boardman, '93, was best man and the following Yale men acted as ushers: Cecil K. Bancroft, '91; Elisha H. Cooper, '92, George M. Landers, '91S., and William C. Hungerford, '93S.

'93L.S.—Homer S. Cummings will be married to Miss Helen Woodruff Smith, daughter of Mr. James Dickinson Smith, of Stamford, Conn. The wedding will take place at Linden Lodge, the home of the bride's father, at Stamford, on Tuesday afternoon, June 29, at 4 o'clock, and will be followed by a reception.

'95—The engagement is announced of Howard White Starr to Miss Henriett D. Danforth, daughter of Mrs. George H. Danforth of New York.

'95—At the recent Commencement exercises of Columbia University, Louis H. Holden and William A. D. Moore, received the degrees of Masters of Arts.

'95—Francis B. Harrison was awarded the prize of $150 for the best essay on a legal subject at the Commencement of the New York Law School. He also receives a Fellowship of $500 a year for three years for graduating at the head of his Class.

Obituary.

REV. JOSEPH T. TUCKER, '33.

Rev. Joshua T. Tucker, D. D., '33, died at his home in Boston, June 11, aged eighty-five. Mr. Tucker graduated from Yale in 1833, and later attended the Lane Theological Seminary in Cincinnati. Some years later he received the honorary degree of D. D. from Iowa College.

He was pastor of the Hollister Congregational Church from 1849 to 1867, and then for ten years preached in Chicopee, when he was forced to resign from his charge on account of ill health. He was one of the editors of the "Boston Review," and later of the "Recorder," predecessor of the "Congregationalist." He was also associated with many other religious undertakings. Mr. Tucker contributed extensively to modern religious literature, his "Life of Christ" being one of the best known of his writings.

J. LEWIS SMITH, M.D., '49.

Dr. J. Lewis Smith, '49, a well known physician of New York city, died at his home, 64 West Fifty-sixth street, on Wednesday, June 9. He was born at Spafford, N. Y., October 13, 1827, prepared for college at the Homer Academy, in Cortlandt County. In 1847 he entered Yale, in the same Class with President Dwight, and graduated in 1849. He began the study of medicine with Drs. Goodyear and Hyde, and later with Dr. Caleb Green of Cortlandt County. He attended the lectures at the Buffalo Medical School in 1851 and 1852, after which time he entered the College of Physicians and Surgeons in New York city, and graduated in 1853. Dr. Smith worked over twenty-five years in the Infant Asylum and Foundling Asylum, and constantly contributed to medical societies and medical periodicals. His reputation as an expert led to his appointment as one of the professors in the Bellevue Hospital Medical College, and his election as an active and honorary member of many medical societies. About forty years ago Mr. Smith married Mary A., daughter of Mr. George Hannah of New York. They had six children, two sons and four daughters. Mrs. Smith died in 1877. Both sons are dead, and the four daughters survive their father, the two youngest being unmarried.

HORACE K. KING, '58S.

Horace K. King, '58S., died at his home in Tully, N. Y., on Monday, May 31. He had been failing in health for some years past from heart trouble, and a complication of diseases. About seven years ago Mr. and Mrs. King and daughter went to Florida, where they remained most of the Winter. On his return he appeared in perfect health, but the improvement was only temporary, and soon after returning to Tully he began to suffer from his old trouble. Some three months ago his illness assumed a serious aspect, and he had been gradually failing up to the time of his death.

Mr. King was the son of the late Henry Fidelo and Mary King, and was born in Tully June 18, 1839. He was graduated from the Yale Scientific School in 1858, and then studied law. He practiced his profession in Tully for many years, and had established an enviable reputation in that part of the State. He represented his town on the Board of Supervisors and held various other town offices from time to time. In politics he was a staunch Democrat, although he gave but little attention to such matters during the latter years of his life. He was a prominent member of the Methodist Church, and for many years took an active part in the church and Sunday school work. In 1863 he married Miss Renette E., daughter of Dr. and Mrs. S. M. Farnham. Three children were born to them, a son, Horace Fidelo, and two daughters, Grace, who died on March 12, 1883, and Jennie, who, with her brother, resides at home. Mr. King also leaves one sister, Mrs. M. V. Dwinelle, of Tully, and two brothers, Charles B. King of Chicago, and Ellis V. King of Tully.

DR. WILLIAM T. LUSK, EX-'59.

Dr. William T. Lusk, the President of the Bellevue Hospital Medical College, one of the best known physicians in the country, died suddenly at his home, 47 East Thirty-fourth street, on Saturday, June 12. Dr. Lusk was born in Norwich, Conn., in 1838, and entered Yale in the class of 1859, remaining only one year. In 1864 he graduated from the Bellevue Hospital Medical College, and soon afterward went to Europe, where he continued his studies at Heidelberg, Berlin, Edinburgh, Paris, Vienna and Prague. He returned in 1868, and accepted a professorship at

E. W. EMERY

246 FIFTH AVENUE
NEW YORK

Tailor...

Correct Styles for

Dress, Business
Golf, Riding
Bicycle Suits

C. P. WURTS, - - Yale '80,
Insurance and Investments.

184 LaSalle Street, - Chicago, Ill.
Direct cable code with English Lloyds, also Patriotic Assurance Co. of Dublin (capital
£1,500,000), and other foreign companies. Special facilities for placing surplus and difficult lines. Correspondence solicited with insurers and agents.

Choice 6 per cent. mortgages on improved Chicago property for sale.

OF HAMILTON PLACE BOSTON.

Long Island College, where he remained until 1871. During the last two years of his service there he delivered courses of lectures of physiology at Harvard. Dr. Lusk was physician to many of the hospitals in New York and vicinity, was an editor of the New York Medical Journal, and Vice-President of the New York Obstetrics Society. In the Civil War he served as a private in a New York volunteer regiment, and was rapidly promoted to second lieutenant, captain and assistant adjutant general. In 1872 he received the degree of A. M., and later that of LL.D. from Yale. Dr. Lusk leaves several children.

NEW YORK UNIVERSITY

HENRY M. MacCRACKEN, LL.D., Chancellor.

PROFESSIONAL SCHOOLS.

UNIVERSITY LAW SCHOOL, Washington Square, New York City.

Day Classes (LL.B. after two years) twelve hours required work and six hours optional per week. Daily recitations from 3.30 to 6 P. M.
Evening Classes (LL.B. after three years) ten hours required work and four hours optional per week. Daily recitations from 8 to 10 P. M.
Graduate classes—A choice of twelve courses. Five courses necessary for the degree of LL.M. May be taken in one year.
Session for 1897-98 begins October 1st, 1897.

UNIVERSITY MEDICAL COLLEGE, East 26th Street, New York City.

Comprehending the New York University Medical College, and the Loomis Laboratory. A four years' graded course. Recent changes afford greatly increased facilities for clinical and laboratory work. The earlier years of the course are devoted to laboratory and didactic instruction; the later years to practical work in the hospital wards and dispensaries.

UNIVERSITY GRADUATE SCHOOL, Washington Square, New York City.

This school includes all examinations and courses of instruction offered by the University to candidates for the degrees of Master of Arts, Master of Philosophy, Master of Science, Doctor of Philosophy and Doctor of Science. A choice of 97 courses. Three courses are necessary for the Master's degree. Six courses and a Thesis are necessary for the Doctor's degree.
Work in this school begins October 1st, 1897.

UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF PEDAGOGY, Washington Square, New York City.

The aim of this school is to furnish thorough and complete professional training for teachers. It unifies all knowledge that bears upon pedagogy from education, psychology, medicine, ethics, philosophy, aesthetics, sociology, etc., into a body of pedagogical doctrine, and points out its application to the practical work of the educator. A choice of thirteen courses is offered. The degrees of Master of Pedagogy and Doctor of Pedagogy are granted upon the successful completion of four and ten courses respectively.
Session for 1897-98 will begin Wednesday, September 29th, 1897.

For circulars giving full information for each of these schools, address

L. J. TOMPKINS, Registrar,
Washington Square, New York City.