

THE GRADUATE DEPARTMENT.

A Large Enrollment—Universities and Colleges Represented.

The graduate catalogue, which appeared a few days ago, shows marked increase in the attendance of this Department. The enrollment last year at this time was 220 and is now 254, an increase of 34, or fifteen per cent. Sixty per cent. were students here last year, and the rest entered this Fall. There are thirty-five women students this year, in comparison with thirty last year.

One hundred and forty-eight of the students have come directly from Yale; six have received degrees from both Yale and some other University. The other students represent the following universities: Smith College, 6; Wellesley College, 6; Doshisha University, Japan, 4; Vassar College, 4; Augustana College, 3; Mt. Holyoke College, 3; Pomona College, 3; two each from Indiana University, Nebraska University, Wesleyan University, Boston University, Northwestern University, Hamilton College, University of Wisconsin, Colby, Harvard, Cornell, Bucknell, University of Upper Iowa, University of Kansas, Rutgers College, National Normal University, Trinity, Pennsylvania State College; one each from University of Michigan, Williams, Bryn Mawr, Western Reserve, Illinois, Gates, Marietta, Colgate University, Euphrates College, Carleton, University of Nebraska, Lebanon Valley College, University of Omaha, University of South Dakota, Syracuse University, College of Orebros, Radcliffe, Rensselaer Polytechnic, Stanford University, Central Turkey College, Butler University, Waynesburg College, Hobart, University of Chicago, Ouachita Baptist College, University of Washington, Adrian College, Gymnase de Geneve, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Washburn College, University of Glasgow, Imperial University of Japan, University of Iowa, Bethany College, Colorado University, Worcester Polytechnic Institute, University of Pennsylvania, University of California, Drake University, Dickinson College, Bates and the University of Rochester.

The different degrees are represented as follows among the graduates: Bachelor of Arts, 146; Bachelor of Philosophy, 55; Master of Arts, 11; Bachelor of Science, 10; Doctor of Philosophy, 10; Bachelor of Law, 2; Bachelor of Divinity, 5; Mining Engineer, 3; Civil Engineer, 2; Bachelor of Philology, 1.

The number of students in each of the various courses of the Department are as follows: Philosophy, 45; Political and Social Science and History, 45; Classical Philology, 53; Modern Languages (including English), 61; Biblical Literature, 26; Natural and Physical Science, 47; Mathematics, Pure and Applied, 46.

Contents of the Yale Literary Magazine and Courant.

The November number of the Yale Literary Magazine appeared Monday. The first article is entitled "The Undergraduate to the Faculty," by A. D. Baldwin, '98. The stories are: "Uncanny Youth," by H. M. Young, '99; "The Unbidden Guest," by O. M. Johnson, 1900, and "Mr. Hook and Mrs. Crook," by H. A. Callahan, '99. The poems are: "Schubert," by J. V. Doniphan, Jr., '99; "Rubaiyat," by C. E. Merrill, '98; "The Golden Card," by H. Mason, '99; "The Fool in Lear," by H. A. Callahan, '99, and "The Awakening," by H. C. Robbins, '99. There is one essay in the number by H. A. Callahan, '99, entitled "Concerning Elia." The Portfolio consists of the following: "Charles Lamb," by H. A. Callahan, '99; "Such Stuff as Dreams," by J. V. Doniphan, Jr., '99; "All is not Gold," by R. Morris, 1901; "Supper Time," by R. Morris, 1901; "Official Ignorance," by G. B. Ellis, 1900, and "Captain Steele Writes to a Lady," by J. V. Doniphan, Jr., '99.

The contents of the Courant of Saturday last are as follows: "Convention Scandal," by C. E. Hay, Jr., '99; "The Green-Eyed Monster," by J. C. McLauchlan, '98; "In the Private Corridor," by G. B. Clark, 1901; "The Fable of the Pipe," by C. E. Merrill, Jr., '98; "Now Come, Dear Helen," by G. Morris, Jr., '98; "Non Semper Imbus," by C. E. Merrill, Jr., '98.

OBITUARY.

For some years after his graduation Mr. Wright was identified with the Mississippi River Improvement Company and other important enterprises in the middle West. His election as President of the River and Rail Electric Light and Motor Company brought him to New York, where he remained until obliged to retire from active business by the malady which ultimately caused his death.

He was a man of splendid purposes and indefatigable zeal. His faults are "such as lean to virtue's side." There was nothing of meanness or selfishness in him. Large-hearted, genial, magnanimous, he had always a good word for his classmates and friends, and they for him. He leaves a devoted wife and daughter, who in their deep sorrow will have the sincere sympathy of all who knew him.

ROBERT M. GROVE, '67 S.

Robert M. Grove died at his home in Danville, Pa., Sunday, October 24. He was born in Lebanon County, Pa., in 1847, and was graduated from the Sheffield Scientific School in the Class of Sixty-Seven. He was a man of much prominence in business circles. Some years ago he was Treasurer and a Director of the Danville Nail Manufacturing Company, and had only recently resigned from the presidency of the Danville National Bank. He is survived by his wife and two daughters.

EDGAR N. SANTOIRE, EX-'97 L. S.

Edgar Norman Santoire died at the home of his father in Brooklyn, Friday, Nov. 5. He was a member of the Class of Ninety-Seven in the Law School, but owing to a spinal trouble which set in, was obliged to leave college in the May preceding graduation. His funeral was held Monday morning in St. Charles R. C. Church, Brooklyn.

Golf Tournament.

A golf tournament for the championship of the University was begun on the New Haven Golf Club's links, Nov. 10. The following are the drawings of those who made the best sixteen scores: S. A. Smith, '99 vs. H. Morse, 1900; F. C. Havemeyer, 1900 vs. J. Reid, Jr., '99; W. B. Smith, '99 vs. F. H. Simons, '98; H. R. Winthrop, '98 vs. J. W. Barney, 1900; L. Coggsell, Jr., '99 vs. W. D. Kountze, '99; E. F. Hinkle, '99 vs. R. Crowell, '98; L. M. Williams, '98 vs. C. L. Tiffany, 2d, 1900; E. Q. Trowbridge, '99 vs. T. M. Robertson, 1900.

There will also be a consolation round.

The result of the tournament will be announced in a later issue.

Distance Running Training.

A new feature in the Fall training for the track team is the bi-weekly paper chases that have been instituted this year. A paper chase was held in the Fall of '95 and two paper chases last year at this time; but the bi-weekly plan is a new one.

A cup is to be given this year by E. C. Perkins, '98, captain of the team, to the man who scores the largest number of points in these runs. The "hound" who finishes first is credited with five points, the one finishing second with three points, the third "hound" with two points and the fourth with one point.

The object of these paper chases is to develop the long distance runners and walkers. The short distance runners do no work in the Fall.

An Interesting Relic for Yale.

George D. Seymour of New Haven has secured a relic of much value to Yale. It will at some future date come to the University. The relic consists of the double doors of the house of the Rev. Mr. Russell of Branford, Conn., where in 1700 the trustees met for the founding of Yale College. The original house was built in 1675 and bought by Mr. Russell a few years later. It was torn down in 1835, but the doors were kept. Mr. Seymour has secured a plan of the house and the room where the founders met.
