Essex County Association.

The annual meeting of the Yale Alumni Association of Essex Co., N. J., will be held at Davis' restaurant, Music Hall Building, Orange, on Friday evening, January 28th, 1898, at 9 o'clock.

The annual reports will be presented and officers for 1898 elected. The report of the Nominating Committee is as follows:

For President, Mr. Emile A. Schultze, Jr.

For members of the Executive Committee, Class of Ninety-Two, Messrs. James B. Dill, Allton H. Sherman.

For Nominating Committee, 1899, Messrs. Austen Colgate, Percy Edgar, A. H. Wallis.

At the close of the meeting, an informal supper will be served.

It is desired by the Association that this notice of the meeting in the WEEKLY, be considered by all Yale men in and about, or within reach of the Oranges, as an invitation to attend, and it is particularly intended to cover the cases of graduates whose addresses have not been secured by the Secretary, and who in consequence, has been unable to send the regular notice.

The annual dinner will follow in February.

The University Athletic Club.

In a recent issue of the WEEKLY an article on the University Athletic Club of New York omitted one or two important features of the Club. One of the most attractive of these features is the accommodation offered for resident or non-resident members in the eleven bedrooms of the club house.

The article also failed to state the fact that the payment of the initiation fee of the members is spread over several years, instead of being payable in advance.

The qualifications for membership were not as clearly stated as they should have been. These are the same as those of the University Club, and require a degree after a course of not less than three years study.

The name of Mr. Adey has always been so closely associated with this Club in its important offices and its important acts, that it was taken for granted that he was still at the head of the important athletic committee. As a matter of fact, however, Mr. Adey retired from that committee two years ago and has not been a member of it since.

Gift to Yale Medical School.

The sum of $1,000 has been given to the Yale Medical School by Mrs. D. C. Leavenworth of New Haven. Mrs. Leavenworth is the widow of the late D. C. Leavenworth, M.D., of the Medical School Class of Sixty-Five. The gift will be known as the Leavenworth Memorial Fund, and it will be used in defraying the general expenses of the School.

The Anniversary Committee.

The Committee on the Celebration of the Yale Bi-centennial met Tuesday in this city for organization, but did not complete the organization at that sitting. Another meeting will be held soon for this purpose.

In the list of names of members of this Committee, announced in the last WEEKLY, the name of Professor Henry W. Farnam did not appear. This was due to a clerical error in making up the list. Professor Farnam was one of the twenty-two members appointed by the Corporation.

Will Be Reinstated.

The Yale Basket Ball Team was disqualified on Jan. 19th, by the Registration Committee of the A. A. U. for having played a game with the Fourth Separate Company Basket Ball team of Yonkers, N. Y., a team which was already under disqualification by the A. A. U. The rule under which this offense comes is a new one, having been passed on Jan. 1st, and the management of the Yale team thought that it had no bearing on College teams, and so played with an unregistered team. Secretary Sullivan has given orders that on the receipt of application for registration from the members of the Yale team they will be re-instated.

Winners of the Biblical Prize.

The winners of the prize offered by the American Institute of Sacred Literature have been announced. The examination was held last March, and five Yale men competed. The first prize of $100 has been awarded to Edgar L. Heermance, '97, and the prize of $50 to Murray S. Howland, '97. Formerly the examinations were held annually in March, but it has been decided to hold them every two years. President Harper of the University of Chicago is President of the American Institute, and Frank K. Sanders, Woolsey Professor of Biblical Literature, is Vice-President.
