"Courant" Editors for '99.

The following men have been elected to compose the Ninety-Nine Board of Editors of the Courant: Charles Edward Hay, Jr. of Springfield, Ill.; Richard Hooker of New Haven, Conn.; Howard Chandler Robbins of Springfield, Mass,, and Henry Bingham Bartlett Yergason of Cincinnati, O. Frederick Martin Davies of New York City was elected Business Manager.

The Courant, in electing as Financial Editor a man unidentified with the literary side of the magazine, makes a new departure, but one which the importance of the business side renders necessary because of the attention it demands.

The privilege of publishing the Banner for 1898 has been awarded to J. L. Evans, '99, and N. M. Burrell, '99.

"Law Journal" Contents.

The February issue of the Yale Law Journal, which was published last week, contains the following: "Code Pleading: The Aid of the Earlier Systems," by Benjamin J. Shipman, the well known author and attorney of St. Paul; "The Study of Roman Law," by William Frederick Foster, D.C.L., of New York City; "Bills of Lading Given for Goods not in Fact Shipped," II., by Thomas H. Cobbs of the Chicago Bar. The issue contains also the usual Comments, Editorials and Reviews.
