Yale, 12—Hampton, 0.

On Friday afternoon Yale played the Hamptons at Hampton, Va. The Hampton nine was organized especially for this game and included among its players five old Yale men, Harvey Cushing, '91; T. B. Smith, '91 S.; R. Armstrong, '95; W. O. Hickok, '95 S., and C. M. Chester, Jr., '97 S.

The game was featureless, Yale winning easily by a score of 12 to 0.

Yale, 3—Virginia, 6.

Yale met her second defeat of the trip in the first of the two games with the University of Virginia, on Saturday afternoon. Summersgill, formerly of Brown University, pitched for Virginia and the home team's victory was due to his effective work. Hall, on the contrary was very wild and the Virginia batters hit his delivery without any trouble.

An unfortunate dispute arose in the seventh inning on account of an objectionable reference to Umpire Betts, by a Yale coacher on the side-lines. Yale's only scoring was done in this inning, when a base on balls, three errors and a two-base hit by Wallace netted three runs. Two men were out, however, and when Hall went to first on an error, Wadsworth, who was coaching there, and urging on the team and the runner, said: "Well, he has never umpired before." Three close decisions against Yale may have given a slight ground for the remark, which was certainly not meant to be an insult. Umpire Betts ordered Wadsworth to the bench, but he refused to go and appealed to Capt. Greenway, who insisted that the Umpire had no right to remove Wadsworth. As the latter retained his place beyond the limit Umpire Betts had set, he declared the game forfeited to Virginia, 9 to 0.

Bonney, the Virginia Captain, however, magnanimously refused the forfeited game, and his men being in favor of continuing under a new umpire, this was done. Yale could not overcome her opponent's lead before the game was called on account of darkness in the eighth inning.

Capt. Greenway's support of his coacher is questioned by some, but the ground taken by him that the remark did not come under the head of "insulting language" (in which case the League rules say a player may be removed by the umpire) seems to be correct. Good feeling prevailed between the two teams throughout the game and there was absolutely no rough playing, as was intimated in some dispatches.

Yale, 5—Virginia, 0.

Yale again met Virginia on Monday, at Charlottesville, Va., and easily defeated her. Umpire Betts officiated. Fearey pitched a fine game and in spite of the poor condition of the field resulting from a heavy fall of rain, received fine support from the entire team.

The Yale batters hit Collier freely, while Fearey allowed but four scattered hits. Virginia's fielding was very poor at times. The game was called at the end of the eighth inning on account of darkness. The score:

Yale, 9—Georgetown, 6.

Yale again defeated Georgetown on Tuesday, by a score of 9 to 6. The game was well played and the frequent scoring in the last three innings kept the result in doubt until the last man was retired. Hall pitched for Yale until the seventh inning, when he was relieved by Chauncey, and Bache was in the box for Georgetown. All the pitchers were hit rather hard. The fast work of the Yale infield and Wallace's two home run drives were features of the game. The score:

CHASE'S PRICES

Most people say they are well up.

That is perfectly true, and we mean to keep them there.

And yet we are doing more and more business, month by month and year by year.

Why?

Come and see—or write for samples.

CHASE & CO.,

NEW HAVEN HOUSE BLOCK.

A Golf Suit Novelty

Which takes very well. The coat is plain, in one of the beautiful shades of the rough goods, and the trousers are of the same body with plaids worked on it. Very pretty cloth; very pretty patterns.

My New York Day

Is the same—Thursday. Time, 12 to 4. Place, Astor House.

F. A. CORBIN,

1000 Chapel St.

The American Hat

Our point is that the Knox is the best hat that American manufacture can produce—that is, it is perfect. American goods, American labor, American thoroughness, and a taste that ever studies the possibilities of graceful head-gear, combine to sustain and develop a national reputation of the highest order.
