'83—Francis G. Beach, Democrat, retired from the New Haven post-mastership on April 1, his term having expired, and a Republican having been appointed to succeed him. The Journal and Courier, (Rep.) commented on the change as follows:

"In accordance with politics Postmaster Beach retires from the office which he has filled with signal ability and efficiency during the last four years. When Mr. Beach took charge of the post office he had a hard task before him, but he did not rest until he had become thoroughly familiar with his duties and thoroughly expert in doing them. The result of his efforts has been a postoffice second to none in the country in promptness, accuracy, regard for public convenience, and progress in postal matters. He has had the hearty approval of the citizens, regardless of politics, and has earned that approval by his attention to business, his regard for the public interest and his unflinching courtesy to all who have had business with him. If we are not mistaken he is the youngest of the postmasters of New Haven for a long time, but he has no inferior rank in the worthy line."

SPECIAL NOTICES.

[Class and Association Secretaries are invited to use this column.]

Fifty-Three's Anniversary.

Mr. Henry H. Babcock for the Class Committee wishes to announce to the members of the Class of Fifty-Three, that the 45th anniversary of the Class will be held on June 28th next, and that the Class Supper will be eaten at the Tontine Hotel. Announcement of the rooms where the members are to meet will appear later in this column.

The Eighty-Eight Decennial.

Preparations have already been begun for the Decennial of Eighty-Eight next Commencement. Notices have been sent to the Class and sixty have replied that they will be here, which is considered a very gratifying number, as the Class graduated only 120 men. An attendance of 75 is anticipated from the present outlook. The Wheeler & Wilson Band has been engaged for the day and evening. The banquet will be held in Arion Hall. The minor details incident to the occasion have not been determined upon. It is probable that Fred Stevenson, Captain of the University Crew in Eighty-Eight, will preside at the banquet, and Sam Cross, who was stroke oar that year and who is now in Pensacola, Fla., has sent word that he expects to be present. From the replies received it is assured that the Pacific slope will be represented.

Ninety-Five S. Reunion.

Bayard Barnes, W. L. Mitchell, and Harry C. Holcombe have been appointed to serve as a Triennial Committee for Ninety-Five Sheffield, in place of the old committee, who were unable to serve on account of absence from New Haven.

Arrangements have been made for accommodations for the entire Class at the Tontine Hotel during Commencement Week. This is a new feature and its object is to keep the Class together, instead of having it scattered all around town, as is usually the case.

Eighty-Two Reunion.

An Eighty-Two dinner and reunion was held at the Yale Club, New York City, last Friday evening, April 8. The following were present: M. S. Bate, Ferree Brinton, C. K. Billings, F. J. Brockway, S. M. Clement, C. B. Case, E. B. Cragin, E. L. Dillingham, W. P. Eno, J. R. Hanlon, S. C. Hopkins, J. P. Kellogg, H. H. Knapp, C. H. Lewis, S. C. Loomis, C. W. Lyman, W. McBride, D. W. McMillan, W. H. Parsons, Jr., H. B. Platt, J. C. Palmer, C. H. Pember, J. Q. Rice, Martin Welles, J. L. Wells, H. L. Williams, and Gilbert Colgate, '83. H. H. Knapp acted as toastmaster and the following responded to toasts: W. H. Parsons, Jr., H. B. Platt, C. W. Lyman, J. L. Wells, and H. L. Williams. It was voted that E. L. Dillingham prepare and publish a Class Record. The project of holding the reunion, naturally falling in 1902, at the time of the two hundredth anniversary of the College, was considered, but no definite action was taken.
