COL. N. G. OSBORN, '80.

'69—Rev. Silliman Blagden has had printed, at considerable expense, his unique verses to the theme "Remember the Maine!" The poem is printed in blue ink with an American flag in colors at the top. The whole effect is unusual. One is much stirred by reading only a portion of it. Some one has read it all and written to the author that it is too belligerent. He has replied in an exhaustive defense of his position. Two copies of the poem have been sent to this office.

'71—The wedding of J. B. Morse to Miss Bessie E. Jones of New Haven was solemnized on May 18th at Christ Church.

'71—At a recent entertainment at the Waldorf-Astoria, New York, Robert H. Hatch, the elocutionist, read, for the 102d time, Henry Baldwin's monologue, "Sackcloth and Ashes." Mr. Baldwin is reading in drawing rooms himself his last sketch, "The Daughters of the Shamrock," being received with much favor.

'76—Robert J. Jessup has left the El Paso, Tex., Herald, of which he was local and city editor for four years, and is back in Denver. His present address is 2501 Gaylord st., Denver, Col.

'77—Professor Thomas D. Goodell has reviewed Phillips' "War of Greek Independence," in the current Yale Review.

'78—Alfred L. Ripley has an article in the May issue of the Yale Review entitled "The Plans for Currency Reform."

'78—E. B. Whitney has an article entitled "The Cuban Revolt and the Constitution" in the current number of the Yale Review.

'80—E. C. M. Hall was elected Secretary of the Connecticut Homeopathic Medical Society at the annual meeting held in Hartford on May 19.

'80—The engagement of Miss May Dwight Foote, daughter of Mrs. Edward Foote of New York City, to Ten Eyck Wendell has been announced.

'80—The following is reproduced from a recent Leslie's Weekly:

"Colonel Norris G. Osborn, of New Haven, Connecticut, has recently acquired such a reputation as an after-dinner speaker that he is very much in the public eye. The colonel is a newspaper man of great resources. Since his graduation from Yale, in 1880, he has been editor-in-chief of the New Haven Register, one of the most conservative and reliable papers in the State. For two years now he has also occupied the important position of editorial correspondent for the Connecticut edition of the Herald, writing over the pen-name of "Trumbull" articles that have attracted the widest interest. His papers on "Yale Reminiscences," to appear in the Fall through a well-known metropolitan publishing house, are said by those who have read them in the manuscript to abound in such wit and humor, with so strong a tendency also to epigrammatic distinction, as to place them in line with the cleverest things of the kind. Recently the colonel has been induced to give a course of lectures before the laboring people of New Haven and other Connecticut towns. A notable paper on "The Newspaper," read before the Civitas Club, of Brooklyn, opened the eyes of the public to his capabilities as a lecturer. This was more than a year ago, and since then he has given several other lectures. One of his greatest charms is his easy, magnetic manner of delivery. The colonel's popularity is deep-rooted. It began while he was a student at Yale, where he occupied almost every position of prominence in his class—was president of the glee club, chairman of the promenade committee, and hail fellow well met with every man at the University. In 1886 Colonel Osborn received the degree of M.A., his B.A. having been given him in 1880. He is a member of the Sons of the American Revolution."

'84—Dr. G. Hudson Makuen was recently elected Fellow of the American Laryngological Association.
