

SENIOR ELECTIONS.

Names and Records of Those Chosen Last Thursday.

The elections to the Senior Societies were given out last Thursday afternoon on the Campus, in the usual manner. The three societies began their work of announcement at five o'clock and most of the work was finished in an hour. The usual crowd watched the ceremonies and cheered the various announcements. The disposition of the crowd was not unfavorable to the societies. There are no unusual incidents to be chronicled in connection with the announcements.

Below are given the list of elections, with the name of the man giving the election and points in the College record of each of those chosen. The names are given in the order in which the elections were given out and the societies are placed in the order of their foundation:

A BEQUEST TO THE MUSICAL DEPARTMENT.

The Corporation voted to accept a bequest from the late Miss Julla A. Lockwood of Norwalk, of $5,000, for the foundation of a Scholarship in the Department of Music, the annual income to be given to two scholars selected on examination for their excellence, one in vocal and the other in instrumental music.

AS TO ENLISTED MEN.

The Corporation took no formal action about enlisted students, this not being the meeting for presentation for degrees, but it was understood that the fact of men having already enlisted up to this time will not stand in the way of a degree.

No Foundation in Fact.

The story, recently published in some reliable newspapers, that Yale had been presented with the Hotel Majestic property to be used as a dormitory, under the name of Duncan Hall, was denied by President Dwight and Professor Dexter. They say there is absolutely no foundation in fact for such a report.

ART SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT.

Academic Man Wins a Prize—Graduate Student Work.

The Anniversary of the Art School took place on Wednesday, June 1st. The exhibits of the work of the students was in some respects more interesting than ever before in the history of the School. The Alice Kimball English Prize of $50 was awarded to David DeForest Burrell, '98, of the Elective Class from the Acamedical Department, this being the first instance of a prize being carried off by a member of that class.

The Ethel Childe Walker Prize was awarded to Helen Elizabeth Booth. Other prizes were awarded for special merit in the various departments of instruction.

A most interesting feature of this Anniversary was a special exhibit of the work of graduate students of the School, some of whom have recently returned from a period of work in the ateliers of Paris, and who have been pursuing their work for the past year in New Haven.

The Anniversary address in the evening, closing the School year, was given by Mr. Robert Swain Peabody, A.M., of the Boston firm of Peabody & Stearns, architects, the subject being "An Architect's Talk About His Books."

Arrangements for Princeton Game.

The first game in the Yale-Princeton championship series will be played at the Yale Field on Saturday afternoon. Applications were received for 1500 seats and the remainder were put on public sale yesterday. The north football stand has been moved to the site of the burned grandstand, and will afford accommodations for 2500 people, in addition to the two side stands which have a seating capacity of 2600 each. All the seats are reserved and the price will be $1.00 each, irrespective of position. Standing room will sell for 50 cents. The management will allow no carriages inside the gates. The new double-track trolley line on Chapel street, first used for the Princeton football game last Fall, will afford excellent transportation facilities to the Field. Those driving to the Field are requested to follow the prescribed carriage route, out Chapel street and across West River through Central avenue, Perry street and Tryon street to Derby avenue.

Date for the University Race.

June 22 has been decided upon as the date of the Yale-Harvard-Cornell University boat race at New London. It was originally thought by the Captains to hold the race on June 23 or 24, but the Yale-Harvard baseball game on the 23d and the Harvard Class-Day exercises on the 24th, made further negotiations necessary. The 25th was not acceptable because of the Sheffield Scientific School Commencement on that day and Cornell was unwilling to row the following week on account of her race with Pennsylvania and Columbia, July 1, at Saratoga Lake. Though undesirable for Yale and Harvard, it was necessary to fix upon an earlier date. The Freshman race will be rowed on the following day.

PENNSYLVANIA WON.

Yale Fourth at Mott Haven—Eight Records Broken—Ideal Day and Large Crowd.

The University of Pennsylvania won for the second time the Intercollegiate Association Games at Berkeley Oval, on Friday and Saturday last, May 27 and 28, with a score of 50 3/4, a margin of over twenty points. Princeton quite unexpectedly took second place, through consistent team work, and Harvard crowded Yale back into fourth place by 3 points.

Pennsylvania won by putting into the field a number of first point men and it was to this that her high score was due. Tewksbury, Hoffman and Kraenzlein of the Dental School, and McCracken of the Medical School, were by themselves able to discount the best team work any other college was capable of.

Yale lost several good men this year in various ways, some at the very last minute. Besides the men who volunteered in the United States army, including Waller, the high jumper, the team has been weakened by the loss of Clifford Cheney, Yale's best broad-jumper, and Byers, the sprinter, both of whom sprained tendons several weeks ago and had to quit work. The latter ran in the Harvard games and the Intercollegiate, but had no business to be on the track, as he was in poor condition. Fisher, who scored for Yale in the quarter last year, was injured by a fall in the Harvard games and has not run since. These injuries may be traced to the great difficulty the men have had training on a track so heavy and rain-sodden that it was next to impossible to do anything on it. The strictest economy had to be practiced in money for the training table through lack of funds, only half of the usual number being taken to the table. No medals were given for the Spring games and no sweaters to the point-winners for the same reason, over a dozen of the competitors in last week's Intercollegiate meet paying their own expenses. In the face of certain and overwhelming defeat Captain Perkins and his men made a strong up-hill fight.

The system of scoring recently adopted, of counting a fourth place as one point, worked very successfully. Points were counted as follows: First, 5; second, 3; third, 2; fourth, 1.

The day was an ideal one for the games, which were witnessed by 3,000 people.

Following is a summary, and brief description of each event:

HUNDRED-YARDS DASH.

Final heat won by J. W. B. Tewksbury, '99 D., Pennsylvania; J. Harland Rush, '98, Princeton, second; A. W. Robinson, 1901, Harvard, third; C. D. Whittemore, '99, Syracuse, fourth. Time, 10 seconds. Intercollegiate record 9 1/2, made by Wefers, Georgetown, in 1896.

Robinson, the Harvard Freshman, had the pole with Rush and Tewksbury on the outside and at the crack of the pistol jumped into the lead, which he held for about half the distance. Here he was overtaken and passed by both of his opponents, Tewksbury running in the lead by about a yard. In the last twenty-five yards, Rush showed a remarkable burst of speed, gaining inch by inch till at the tape he was beaten by the small margin of six inches. Robinson was a good third.
