

FIRST GAME FOR PRINCETON.

Yale Nine Lost Through Fearey's Weakness and General Poor Play.

The first game in the Yale-Princeton championship baseball series was played at the Yale Field on Saturday and resulted in an easy victory for the Princeton Nine. Almost four thousand people saw the game in spite of the weather conditions, which were rendered decidedly unfavorable by reason of a strong wind blowing across the field from the North. The result of the game was in doubt at no time after the fourth inning, although the rally in the eighth gave some hope to the Yale following, recalling as it did the sensational finish of the first Princeton game last year, when Yale turned almost certain defeat into victory by opportune batting in the ninth and tenth innings.

Fearey pitched the first four innings for Yale and principally through his wildness Princeton secured her unsurmountable lead. Greenway succeeded Fearey and finished the game in creditable form, although he was hit freely. The field work of the Yale Nine was ragged at times. Camp, Hazen, Wadsworth and Wear, however, filled their positions in fine form, and with Greenway, were the only men on the team who were able to hit Hillebrand's delivery. Sullivan's weakness in throwing to bases was again apparent, five men succeeding in stealing second.

Hillebrand pitched a steady game for Princeton and was well supported except in the eighth inning, when Butler's errors and Kafer's passed ball proved costly. The batting of Kelly and Hillebrand was a feature of the game.

The play was marked by two sensational catches, one by Watkins of Sullivan's hit over short-stop and the other, deSaulles' stop of a line drive between first and second.

Eleven bases on balls and six hits off Fearey, coupled with four stolen bases, errors by Greenway and Wallace and three passed balls, allowed nine Princeton men to score in the first four innings. Princeton scored two more runs in the fifth on three hits and errors by Wallace and deSaulles. A sacrifice hit, followed by Kelly's single, sent Easton across the plate in the eighth and completed Princeton's scoring.

Wear's home run in the seventh inning was Yale's first score, although the side had been retired in three previous innings with three men on bases. Yale made six runs in the eighth on errors off Butler, a base on balls, singles by Camp, deSaulles and Wadsworth and Greenway's three-base hit into right field.

The score:

YALE.		AB.	R.	H.	PO.	A.	E.
deSaulles, 2b.	3	1	1	2	1	2
Wadsworth, 1b.	5	1	2	13	0	0
Wear, cf.	3	2	1	1	0	0
Greenway, lf, p.	4	0	1	1	3	1
Wallace, rf.	5	0	0	1	1	2
Camp, ss.	5	1	1	3	4	0
Hazen, 3b.	5	1	1	1	4	0
Fearey, p.	2	0	0	1	1	0
Eddy, lf.	2	0	0	0	0	0
Sullivan, c.	3	1	0	4	1	0
Totals	37	7	7	27	15	5

PRINCETON.		AB.	R.	H.	PO.	A.	E.
Suter, rf.	6	1	1	2	0	0
Easton, lf.	3	2	0	6	0	0
Kafer, c.	4	1	1	8	0	0
Kelly, 1b.	6	1	4	5	0	0
Butler, ss.	6	0	1	2	0	3
Hutchings, 3b.	3	2	1	3	1	1
Hillebrand, p.	6	2	3	0	1	0
Burke, 2b.	4	1	1	0	3	1
Watkins, cf.	2	2	1	1	0	0
Totals	40	12	13	27	5	5

Yale		Princeton
1	2	3	4
3	0	0	5
0	0	0	0
0	0	0	0
0	0	0	1
0	0	0	6
0	0	0	0
0	0	0	7

Summary: Two-base hit—Hazen. Three-base hits—Kelly and Greenway. Home runs—Wear and Kafer. Sacrifice hits—Easton and Kafer (2). Bases stolen—Wear, Easton, Kafer, Kelly (2), Hutchings and Burke. Bases on balls—Off Fearey, 11; off Greenway, 2; off Hillebrand, 6. Hit by pitched ball—Easton and Hutchings. Struck out—Greenway, Wallace (3), Camp, Hazen, Fearey, Butler, Hutchings, Burke. Passed balls—Sullivan, 3; Kafer. Time of game—Two hours and fifty minutes. Umpire—Henderson.

Princeton 1901, 7—Yale 1901, 5.

The Freshman Baseball Team lost to the Princeton Freshmen at Princeton on Saturday, by a score of 7 to 5. This game was the last of a very successful season, the Yale Freshmen having won three out of the four championship games, two from Harvard and one from Princeton. Yale out-classed Princeton in batting, but five of the six errors were costly. The loose field work may be attributed in a measure to the unfavorable weather conditions, as it rained during part of the game and the diamond was in bad shape. Stickney pitched well and the whole team played a plucky up-hill game. Yale's base-running, however, was extremely poor. Irwin led at the bat for Yale while the fielding and batting of Clark of Yale and Hamilton and Clausen of Princeton were uniformly good.

The score:

YALE, 1901.		AB.	R.	H.	PO.	A.	E.
Brown, 3b.	4	0	1	0	5	0
Irwin, ss.	5	1	3	0	2	2
Clark, lf.	5	1	2	4	2	0
Robertson, 1b.	5	0	1	8	0	1
Hirsh, c.	5	0	1	4	0	1
Stickney, p.	4	0	0	1	0	0
Boyce, rf.	4	1	1	1	0	0
Taylor, cf.	3	1	1	1	0	1
Rithet, cf.	1	0	1	0	0	0
Twining, 2b.	4	1	2	6	2	1
Totals	40	5	13	24	12	6

PRINCETON, 1901.		AB.	R.	H.	PO.	A.	E.
Clausen, ss.	3	3	1	3	2	0
Mattis, cf.	4	2	1	2	0	0
Hamilton, 1b.	4	0	2	3	2	0
Boaly, p.	4	1	1	3	1	0
Lane, 3b.	4	0	0	2	1	1
Williamson, lf.	4	0	0	1	0	2
Loy, rf.	3	1	1	0	0	1
Duncan, 2b.	4	0	1	3	1	1
Robbins, c.	4	0	1	10	2	1
Totals	34	7	8	27	9	6

Summary: Earned runs—Yale, 3; Princeton, 2. Three-base hit—Irwin. Home run—Boaly. Stolen bases—Princeton, 5. Double plays—Clark to Hirsh, Clark to Twining. Bases on balls—Off Stickney, 1; off Boaly, 1. Struck out—By Stickney, 2; by Boaly, 7. Time—One hour and fifty-five minutes.

Track Team Captain.

Thomas Rawdon Fisher, Jr., '98 S., of New Rochelle, N. Y., the new Captain of the Track Team, prepared for College at the Harvard School, New York City. He has been on the University Relay Team for three years. In Freshman year he secured second place in the quarter-mile in the Intercollegiate. In 1897, he won first in the

T. R. FISHER, '98 S.

220-yard dash, and third in the hundred in the Yale-Harvard games. He also won second in the hundred in the Intercollegiate last year. This Spring he tied for first place in the quarter mile in the Yale-Harvard games, but was prevented from running in the Intercollegiate by a sprained tendon.

CREW ON THE THAMES.

Weather, and Condition of the Oarsmen, Good—Speeding Up.

The University Crew had its closing practice on the harbor on Friday last and after a rest granted them on Saturday afternoon to witness the ball game with Princeton at the Field, they left for New London on the steam yacht Eleanor. The Eleanor is the property of William A. Slater of Norwich, Conn., but has been chartered for the Summer by Colonel Oliver Payne of New York, the uncle of Captain Whitney, who tendered it to the management for the transportation of the Crew and the rowing paraphernalia.

The men taken were: Payne Whitney, '98, Captain; J. P. Brock, 1900; R. P. Flint, '99 S.; J. H. Niedeken, 1900; F. W. Allen, 1900; J. C. Greenleaf, '99 S.; W. B. Williams, 1900. Substitutes, J. C. Greenway, 1900; R. A. McGee, '99 S.; J. W. Cross, 1900, and Louis Greene, '99, coxswain. H. P. Wickes, 1900, who was at the Infirmary suffering from a slight attack of malaria, left for New London on Tuesday. As usual the examinations for these men will be held at New London.

The men were accompanied by Coach Robert J. Cook, Grenville Parker, '98, Manager, and Ord Preston, '99, Assistant Manager. Two shells were carried swung over the deck of the yacht, one, the shell used in the race last year, and other the new cedar shell built in England. The Davies boat, built in Cambridge, will go to Gale's Ferry at once, to be used in case of any emergency, though the greater part of the work will be done in the English boat, which is designed for the race. The Crew reached their quarters at Captain Brown's house, at Gale's Ferry at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, and began hard training on the river on Monday. The change cannot be but beneficial and shows already in the sharper practise. No time rows have been taken as yet.

Freshman Crew Shake-up.

Considerable improvement has been noticed in the work of the Freshman Crew during the past week, in spite of the adverse weather conditions. Three additional changes were made on Friday, Stillman returning to his old place at 4, Newport going to 3, where Atkinson and Auchincloss had been rowing and Olcott replacing Wheeler and Keppleman, who had been alternating at 2. The following is the order of the boat at present: Stroke, Cameron, 1901; 7, Mitchell, 1901; 6, Brown, 1901; 5, Gillette, 1900 S.; 4, Stillman, 1901; 3, Newport, 1901; 2, Olcott, 1901; bow, Waterman.

The squad left for Gale's Ferry on Wednesday, where they took up their quarters with the University Crew.

Harvard Reaches Red Top.

The Harvard University and Freshman Crews ended their practice on the Charles river on Tuesday, and accompanied by Coach Lehmann left for New London yesterday morning at 9 o'clock, the shells and launch having gone forward a few hours before them. The men were given a great send-off by 2,000 students, who cheered enthusiastically for the oarsmen and Mr. Lehmann. The men are in excellent health and spirits and much confidence is expressed in their ability to win on the 22d.

The Harvard quarters, which will be at Red Top as in former years, were ready to receive the visitors.

ACADEMIC TASTES

Make New Haven's standard in materials and styles of personal attire at least as high as that of any city in the country. We realized that when we came here. We have worked to meet and to anticipate the exacting demands. Yale men have generously responded to these efforts on our part. We reciprocate with still more zealous endeavor.

CHASE & CO.,

NEW HAVEN HOUSE BLOCK.

Henry Heath Hats.

The supply of

ENGLISH TENNIS FLANNELS

Of the kind we use has been utterly inadequate to the demand. We expect another invoice of Welch, Margetson & Co.'s unapproachable goods on June 10.

FRANK A. CORBIN,

1000 CHAPEL STREET, NEW HAVEN.

New York, Thursdays, 12 to 4 o'clock, at Astor House.

The Observation Train

At New London on June 22 will have forty cars, with eighty people in each car. What a beautiful scene it will be! You will find a store full of KNOX hats on that train.

Row at Ithaca Another Week.

The Cornell Crew is not expected to reach the Thames till the latter part of next week, as Mr. Courtney prefers to have his men work on their own course as long as it is possible. The Crew will be quartered at Captain Clark's at Harrison's Landing, two miles above the drawbridge on the West side.

CALL AT

JOHN N. CHAMPION & CO.

florists

When you want fresh cut Flowers.

1026 Chapel Street.

Opposite Vanderbilt Hall.

Full-grown Men

—LIKE—

THE SUN.