

Hiram Shall, Little Falls, N. Y.; Frank Raymond Stocker, Jermy, Penn.

IN HISTORY.

David Brewer Eddy, Leavenworth, Kan.; Charles Welles Gross, Hartford, Conn.; Sidney Knox Mitchell, Lakeville, N. Y.; Darius Edward Peck, Hudson, N. Y.; Edward Carter Perkins, Hartford, Conn.; Robert Kimball Richardson, New Britain, Conn.; John Munro Woolsey, Englewood, N. J.

IN ENGLISH.

Arthur Henry Bartlett, Plainville, Conn.; Charles Edmund Merrill, Jr., New York City.

IN ANCIENT LANGUAGES.

Samuel Eliot Bassett, Wilton, Conn.; John Harold Fuller, Barton's Landing, Vt.; Job Edgar Johnson, Summit, R. I.; Wilmot Haines Thompson, Jr., East Orange, N. J.; Henry Burt Wright, New Haven, Conn.

One-Year Honors.

IN PHILOSOPHY.

Charles McLean Warren, Collinsville, Conn.; Howard Brown Woolston, Philadelphia, Penn.

IN NATURAL SCIENCES.

William Gage Erving, Hartford, Conn.

IN POLITICAL SCIENCE AND LAW.

James Frank Adams, Celeste, Texas; Jacob Burnet Burnet, Cincinnati, Ohio; Julius Flake McDonald, Abbott, Texas; William Newell Vaile, Denver, Col.

IN HISTORY.

James Frank Adams, Celeste, Texas; Archibald Cary Harrison, New York City; Julius Flake McDonald, Abbott, Texas; Gustavus Ericson Warren, Burleson, Texas.

IN ENGLISH.

Carroll Storrs Alden, Chicago, Ill.; Carleton Henry Barclay, Home City, Penn.; Martin Toscan Bennett, Hartford, Conn.; Franklin Hendrickson Booth, Newtown, N. Y.; Herbert Draper Gallaudet, Washington, D. C.; Robert Kilburn Root, New Haven, Conn.; Edward Clark Streeter, Chicago, Ill.

Degrees Conferred.

The following were given the degree of Doctor of Philosophy; besides the name the college conferring previous degrees and the residence of the candidate is given:

Alice Hopkins Albro, B.A. Bryn Mawr College 1890, Mansfield, Penn. James Turney Allen, B.A. Pomona College 1895, M.A. University of California 1896, Claremont, Cal.

Gustav Albert Andreen, B.A. Augustana College 1881, Yale University 1894, New Haven, Conn.

Martha Austin, B.S. Smith College 1892, Easthampton, Mass.

Edward Chauncey Baldwin, B.A. Yale University 1895, West Cornwall, Conn.

Bayard Barnes, Ph.B. Yale University 1895, New Haven, Conn.

Anna Hunt Billings, B.L. Smith College 1891, Redlands, Cal.

James Wallace Broatch, B.A. Yale University 1891, Omaha, Neb.

Arthur Ernest Davies, B.D. Yale University 1891, London, England.

Frederick Marcy DeForest, B.A. Yale University 1895, Bridgeport, Conn.

John Joseph Dunn, B.A. Yale University 1895, New Haven, Conn.

George Francis Eaton, B.A. Yale University 1894, New Haven, Conn.

Harry Ward Foote, Ph.B. Yale University 1895, New Haven, Conn.

Armenag Harutune Haigazian, B.A. Central Turkey College 1889, S.T.B. Hartford Theological Seminary 1896, Hadjin, Asia Minor.

Theodore Woolsey Heermance, B.A. Yale University 1893, New Haven, Conn.

Yandell Henderson, B.A. Yale University 1895, Louisville, Ky.

George Dwight Kellogg, B.A. Yale University 1895, Cambridge, Mass.

Charlton Miner Lewis, B.A. Yale University 1886, LL.B. Columbia College 1889, New Haven, Conn.

Laura Emma Lockwood, M.A. University of Kansas 1894, Lawrence, Kansas.

Bertha Ellen Lovewell, B.L. Washburn College 1889, Topeka, Kansas.

Warren Estelle Lloyd, M.A. University of California 1895, Los Angeles, Cal.

George Kingsley Olmsted, Ph.B. Colorado College 1894, Hartford, Conn.

George Tucker Sellow, M.A. University of Rochester 1889, New Haven, Conn.

Thomas Calhoun Stearns, B.A. Yale University 1886, M.A. University of New York 1892, Westport, Conn.

Margaret Sherwood, B.A. Vassar College 1886, Wellesley, Mass.

George Pratt Starkweather, M.E. Yale University 1894, New Haven, Conn.

Wendell Melville Strong, B.A. Yale University 1893, M.A. Cornell University 1894, Montclair, N. J.

Willard Gibbs Van Name, B.A. Yale University 1894, New Haven, Conn.

Jacob Westlund, B.A. College of Orebro, Sweden, 1885, Lindborg, Kansas.

Albert Beebe White, B.A. Yale University 1893, Holbrook, Mass.

Caroline Louisa White, B.A. Mount Holyoke College 1894, Brookline, Mass.

Sarah Scoville Whittelsey, B.A. Radcliffe College 1894, New Haven, Conn.

John Dorsey Wolcott, B.A. University of Wisconsin 1895, M.A. Cornell University 1897, Penn Yan, N. Y.

Elizabeth Woodbridge, B.A. Vassar College 1892, Brooklyn, N. Y.

MASTERS OF ARTS.

Following are the names of those receiving the degree of M.A., together with the subject of study, and their residence:

William Maitland Abell, B. A., New York City, Yale University 1887—Philosophy.

John Chester Adams, B. A., Brookline, Mass., Yale University 1896—English.

Lane Cooper, B.A., New Brunswick, N. J., Rutgers College 1896—English.

Roger Sherman Day, Jr., B.A., Los Angeles, Cal., Pomona College 1894—Economics.

William Watts Davidson, B.A., Gibsonville, N. C., Yadkin College 1880, B.D. Yale University 1886—English.

Charles Cheney Hyde, B.A., Chicago, Ill., Yale University 1895—History.

Arthur Lovell, B.A., Plainfield, N. J., Yale University 1892—Classics.

George Augustus Lewis, B.A., Hudson, N. Y., Yale University 1895—History.

Henry Edwin McDermott, B.A., New Haven, Conn., Yale University 1896—Biology.

Theodore Woods Noon, B.A., Cambridge, Mass., Yale University 1896—Classics.

Isaac W. Riley, B.A., Buffalo, N. Y., Yale University 1892—Philosophy.

Joseph Earl Sheffield, B.A., New York City, Yale University 1894—English.

George Herbert Thomas, B.A., Providence, R. I., Yale University 1895—History.

Kazutami Ukita, Kyoto, Japan, Doshisha Theological School, Japan, 1879—Philosophy.

MECHANICAL ENGINEER.

Lemuel Robert Hopton, Ph.B. Yale University 1896: Thesis, "Cylinder Condensation and the Function of the Steam Jacket."

CIVIL ENGINEERS.

Richard Shelton Kirby, Ph.B. Yale University 1896: Thesis, "Design for some recently erected steel structures."

Ely Morgan Talcott Ryder, Ph.B. Yale University 1896: Thesis, "Design for a stone-arch bridge crossing Byram River at Port Chester, N. Y."

University Prizes.

Prize awards were announced as follows:

The John A. Porter Prize—Samuel Peterson, B.A. '95, Ph.D. '97, Los Angeles, Cal.; Yale Law School '98.

The Bennett Prize—Charles Everett Farr, Athol, Mass., Yale B.A. '98.

The Cobden Club Medal—Morrell Walker Gaines, Yale B.A. '98, Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Poetry Prize—Martha Hale Shackford, B.A. Wellesley '96, Dover, N. H.

The Alice Kimball English Prize was awarded by the Faculty of the School of Fine Arts to David DeForest Burrell of New York, a member of the Senior elective class from the Academical Department.

The Ethel Child Walker Prize was awarded to Helen Elizabeth Booth of New Haven.

A prize in Anatomy was awarded to Abel Wilder Neal of Tremont, Maine, and a special prize in drawing to Jean May Burr of Monroe, Conn.

ACADEMICAL DEPARTMENT.

Class of Ninety-Eight—Second DeForest Mathematical Prize, Joseph Hall Hart, Cincinnati, O.

Class of Ninety-Nine—Daniel Lord

Scholarship, Charles Montgomery Hathaway, Jr., Olyphant, Pa.

Class of Nineteen Hundred—Waterman Scholarship, John Morgan Hopkins, Decherd, Tenn.

Scott Hurtt Scholarship—Thomas Walter Swan, Northampton, Mass.

MEDICAL SCHOOL.

The Campbell Gold Medal, awarded for the highest rank in the examinations in the medical course, is this year awarded to Philip D. Bunting of Ellenville, N. Y., with honorable mention of Robert C. Sellow of Waterbury, Conn.

SHEFFIELD SCIENTIFIC SCHOOL.

Class of Ninety-Eight—For excellence in Mechanical Engineering, Herbert Hastings, Hartford, Conn.; with honorable mention of Edward James Sherwood, Westport, Conn., and Fred Gilbert Ferrey, Pittsfield, Mass.

For excellence in Civil Engineering, Zenas Harrison Sikes, Suffield, Conn.

The Belknap Prize in Natural History was awarded to Justin Frank Grant, Stamford, Conn., with honorable mention of Allan Chotard Eustis, New Orleans, La., and Louis Albert Chase, Plainfield, N. J.

MILITARY HONORS.

Students distinguished in the Department of Military Science, whose names will be published in the United States Army Register for 1899: James Joseph Lyons, New Britain, Conn., Francis Jefferson Titus, Middletown, O.; Walter Fraser Gibson, Buffalo, N. Y.

SHEFFIELD SCIENTIFIC SCHOOL HONORS.

Louis Albert Chase, Allen Chotard Eustis, Fred Gilbert Ferrey, Justin Frank Grant, Herbert Hastings, James Leland Howard, Jr.,* George Hoppin Humphreys, Jr., Howard Chapin Ives, Treat Baldwin Johnson, Richard Krentz, Lewis Camp McEwen, Charles Lindsley Sherwood,* Edward James Sherwood, Zenas Harrison Sikes, Arthur Benjamin Siviter, Walter Henry Sykes, Jr.,* George Paul Wisdom, Cooper Wood, Walter Laning Worral.*

*Four members of the Senior class of the Sheffield Scientific School were unable, on account of their enlistment in the United States Army, to qualify themselves fully for honors by the presentation of theses. As, however, their general standing was of the requisite grade, their names are by special vote of the Governing Board included in this list.

Sheffield Course Prizes.

The following prizes in the Sheffield Scientific School were announced at the close of the term:

CLASS OF NINETY-NINE.

For Excellence in the Mathematics of the Junior year, the prize is divided between Herbert T. Herr and Clarence E. Weaver, with honorable mention of Frederick S. Coe and Henry A. S. Howarth.

For Excellence in German—In the advanced course the prize is awarded to William Walker, with honorable mention of William E. Ford, Jr., and Clarence E. Weaver.

In Elementary German the prize is awarded to Leopold S. Quackenbush, with honorable mention of Frederick S. Coe, Harry C. Gause, and Walter M. Sanders.

CLASS OF NINETEEN HUNDRED.

For Excellence in all the studies of the Freshman year—The prize is divided between Frederic J. Carnell and Henry D. Stowe, with honorable mention of Samuel W. Dudley.

For Excellence in Physics—Henry D. Stowe, with honorable mention of Frederic J. Carnell.

For Excellence in German—Edward J. Rungee, with honorable mention of Frederic J. Carnell, Samuel W. Dudley, William Strobbridge, and Frank P. Underhill.

For Excellence in French—Henry F. Dutton, Jr., with honorable mention of Edward C. Dean and Edward L. deForest.

For Excellence in Chemistry—Henry F. Merriam, with honorable mention of Frederic J. Carnell.

For Excellence in Mathematics—Henry D. Stowe, with honorable mention of Frederic J. Carnell and Samuel W. Dudley.

For Excellence in Mechanical Drawing—Edwin M. Walker, with honorable mention of Frederic J. Carnell and Charles S. Landers.

The Baccalaureate Sermon.

The texts chosen by President Dwight for his baccalaureate sermon on Sunday were as follows:

I Corinthians, 4:18; Phillipians, 2:4, and 3:13 ;I Corinthians, 3:22.

The President said that the day was in itself a reminder of the passing of an epoch in life and was full of suggestion of the maturer activity that lay before each educated man as he went forth into the world. The day must therefore be one of retrospect as well as prospect. The call to the university student is the same as that which comes to other men. It has its source in the experience through which he has passed and that is alone peculiar, and has become a part of his own individual possession and personality. The life of the coming years has thus a larger significance.

TO THE CLASS.

In conclusion, the President, speaking to the Class, said:

"I have spoken thus to you, my young friends of the University, all of you younger than myself yet of the same brotherhood. These things I believe to be the Christian message of love. The college years with all their joys and happy experiences have come to their end for you and memory alone can deal with them or keep them. I trust that the remembrance of them may be as delightful as the experiences themselves were in their season, and that your recollections may have for you as much inspiring power as those which came to the best among the men who have moved onward before you here. The many years are opening before you and you are looking upon them reverently yet hopefully. My wish is that when hope changes into reality your realization may answer fully to the hope, and that the blessings of the yet distant day may be but the measure of your present thought. The hour which divides the college years from the many years is an hour for holy purpose and grand resolve. The prayer which I would offer for you is that your purpose may be to live the life of the soul, the life that is unseen, the life of service for others and that forever presses onward to that which is better and to the realization of the better. May this be your experience as you imitate the Lord Jesus Christ and grow into His likeness, and may the peace of God which passeth all understanding be ever present with you."

Erratum in Honorary Degree Address.

The date 1894 in the eleventh line of the address of Professor Fisher in the presentation of Mr. Wadsworth for an honorary degree should, of course, read 1864. The form was in press before the typographical error was discovered.

Candidates for Admission.

The following table gives an idea of the incoming Freshman classes as shown by the Summer examinations for admission to both departments, and compares the figures with those of last year:

ACADEMIC.
	1897.	1898.
Final	305	379
Preliminary	336	344
Totals	701	723
SCIENTIFIC.
	1897.	1898.
Final	219	217
Preliminary	195	179
Totals	414	396

The July "Atlantic."

The July Atlantic is particularly timely and still maintains its high literary standard. Among the contributors are the names of James Bryce, Abraham Cohan, James K. Hosmer, Ethel Alleyne Ireland, J. Lawrence Laughlin, Henry C. Lea, Prof. Mark H. Liddell, Rev. Dr. Charles F. B. Miel, Gilbert Parker and Bradford Torrey.