

FOR EVERY $1,000 OF LIABILITIES

THE IMPREGNABLE PRUDENTIAL.

IT CAN SHOW $1,279 OF ASSETS.

Our "Ordinary" Insurance

"Ordinary" Life Insurance, as operated by THE PRUDENTIAL, is that class of insurance upon which premiums are payable annually, semi-annually, or quarterly.

The most attractive forms of these policies are issued on the Whole Life, Limited Payment, or Endowment plans, and can be obtained in sums ranging from $500 to $50,000, according to the requirements and means of the Insured.

The superb organization of THE PRUDENTIAL, and its many important advantages in investment, enable it to give the largest returns to Policy-holders, who share in the distribution of its gains. We should be glad to furnish full particulars of such policies as are best adapted to your needs, whether protection for the family or a means of investment of money is desired.

The Prudential Insurance Company

OF AMERICA

JOHN F. DRYDEN, Pres't.

NEWARK, N. J.

IN MEMORIAM.

[Continued from 9th page.]

Osborn, editor of the New Haven Register, General Aiken, Hugh H. Osgood and John T. Wait, of Norwich, and Alfred Mitchell, of New London. Others present were: Henry P. Goddard, of Baltimore, John Babcock, of Chicago, John E. Milholland and Cephas Brainerd, of New York, and Henry Hall, James B. Wasson and Hart Lyman, of the Tribune.

A brief committal service at Yantic Cemetery, in Norwich, immediately followed the service at the church. An interesting incident was the attending, as a guard of honor, of four members of Company C, 18th Connecticut Volunteers, which was raised at Norwich by Mr. Bromley for service in the Civil War.

I. H. B.

DIED AUGUST 11, 1898.

[New York Tribune.]

The dirge is sung, the ritual said,
No more the brooding organ weeps,
And soft and green, the turf is spread
On that lone grave where BROMLEY sleeps.

Gone—in his ripe, meridian hour!
Gone—when the wave was at its crest!
And gentle Humor's perfect flower
Is turned to darkness and to rest.

No more those honest eyes will gleam
With torrid light of proud desire;
No more those fluent lips will teem
With Wit's gay quip or Passion's fire.

Forever gone! And with him fade
The dreams that Youth and Friendship know—
The frolic and the glee that made
The golden time of Long Ago.

The golden time! Ah, many a face,—
And his the merriest of them all,—
That made this world so sweet a place,
Is cold and still, beneath the pall.

His was the heart that over-much,
In human goodness puts its trust,
And his the keen, satiric touch
That shrivels falsehood into dust.

His love was like the liberal air,—
Embracing all, to cheer and bless;
And ev'ry grief that mortals share
Found pity in his tenderness.

His subtle vision deeply saw,
Through piteous webs of human fate,
The motion of the sov'reign law,
On which all tides of being wait.

No sad recluse, no bookish drone,
His mirthful spirit, blithely poured,
In many a crescent frolic shone,—
The light of many a festal board.

No pompous pedant, did he feign,
A dull conceit of Learning's store;
But not for him were writ in vain
The statesman's craft, the scholar's lore.

Fierce for the right, he bore his part
In strife with many a valiant foe;
But Laughter winged his polished dart,
And Kindness tempered ev'ry blow.

No selfish purpose marked his way;
Still for the common good he wrought,
And still enriched the passing day
With sheen of wit and sheaves of thought.

Shrine him, New England, in thy breast!
With wild flowers grace his hallow'd bed,
And guard with love his laurel'd rest,
Forever, with thy holiest dead!

For not in all the teeming years
Of thy long glory hast thou known
A being framed of smiles and tears
Humor and force so like thine own!

And never did thine asters gleam
Or through thy pines the night-winds roll,
To soothe, in death's transcendent dream,
A sweeter or a nobler soul!

WILLIAM WINTER.

Santa Catalina Island, Pacific Ocean,
August 27, 1898.

Greenway's Training.

[Bridgeport Morning Telegram.]

Jack Greenway, who handled the deceptive curves of "Dutch" Carter when the Yale baseball team was invincible and was a sturdy end rush for the Yale football eleven, has been promoted for gallantry on the battle field. Greenway is with the Rough Riders and as roughing it was part of his football tuition, he is naturally a howling success. No one who ever saw Jack Greenway get around the end in a football scrimmage, where the accomplishment required strength and courage, will depreciate the benefit of participation in athletic games at the period in life when the mind undergoes a course of training and character is being formed.

Eleven Yale Teachers.

Arrangements for the new Cornell Medical School in New York City are well under way. Architect's plans for the building, which will be situated on First ave. between 27th and 28th streets, have been drawn and accepted. The structure will be in the Renaissance style and will be built of red brick and limestone at a cost of about $400,000, and when finished, in a year's time, will be one of the most complete colleges of its kind in the world.

Among the Faculty and teaching body which has already been gathered together there are eleven Yale graduates, from the Class of Sixty-Three upwards. They are: Lewis A. Stimpson, '63, Professor of Surgery; Frederic S. Dennis, '72, Professor of Clinical Surgery; George T. Elliot, '77, Professor of Dermatology; Alexander Lambert, '84, Professor of Clinical Medicine; F. W. Murray, '77, Professor of Clinical Surgery; P. R. Bolton, '86 S., Instructor in Surgery; Lewis A. Conner, '87 S., Instructor in Medicine; John A. Hartwell, '89 S., Instructor in Physiology; Edward L. Keyes, '63, Assistant Demonstrator in Anatomy; J. E. Newcombe, '80, Instructor in Laryngology; John Rogers, '87, Instructor in Surgery and Assistant Demonstrator in Anatomy.

"Yale Review" for August.

Comment: Imperialism, True and False; Administrative Problems of an Imperial Policy; State Railroad Purchase in Switzerland. Body articles: "The Present Status of Cotton and Cotton Manufacturing in the United States," by Mr. Edward Atkinson, of Boston; "The Essay of Malthus: a Centennial Review," by Professor Frank A. Fetter, of the Indiana University; "Some Economic Consequences of the Liberation of Cuba," by Dr. G. Kingsley Olmsted, of Yale University; "Labor Crises and their Periods in the United States," by Professor Henry W. Farnam, of Yale University; "Ancient and Modern Hindu Gilds," by Professor E. Washburn Hopkins, of Yale University. Notes: The National Municipal League; The Alaskan Gold Fields; Economic Aspects of the Liquor Problem; The late Mr. E. A. Angell; Gold Contracts in the United States. Book Reviews: Bodley's France (by Professor J. W. Jenks); Pearson's Chances of Death; Stark's Abolition of Privateering (by Professor T. S. Woolsey); Sayous' Bourses Allemandes; Henry George's Political Economy; Richardson's National Movement in the Reign of Henry III.; Sombart's Socialisme au XIXe Siècle; Destrée and Vandervelde's Socialisme en Beligique; Sneath's Hobbes; Ford's Federalist; Ashley's Turgot; Handwörterbuch der Staatswissenschaften, Supplementband II.

FRENCH Language and Literature, by experienced and successful instructor. Tutoring and coaching. Regent's examinations a specialty. Highest testimonials. A. J. DE METS, 68 Howe Street.

Professional Schools.

YALE MEDICAL SCHOOL.

86th Annual Session, Oct. 6, 1898.

The course leading to the degree of Doctor of Medicine in Yale University is graded, covers four years, and consists of systematic, personal instruction in laboratory, class-room and clinic.

For announcements, send to the Dean.

HERBERT E. SMITH, New Haven, Conn.

SCHOOLS.

The Hotchkiss School,
LAKEVILLE, CONN.

An endowed school, devoted exclusively to preparation for college, or scientific school, according to Yale and Harvard standards. Eight regular instructors.

The school was opened in 1892, with provision for 50 boys. Enlarged accommodations were immediately called for, and the capacity of the school was doubled in 1894.

A limited number of scholarships, some of which amount to the entire annual fee, are available for deserving candidates of slender means who can show promise of marked success in their studies.

EDWARD G. COY, Head Master.

MR. TAFT'S SCHOOL,
WATERTOWN, CONN.

A Preparatory School for Boys.

HORACE D. TAFT, HEAD MASTER.

BETTS ACADEMY

STAMFORD, CONN.—59th Year.

Prepares for universities or technical schools. Special advantages to students desiring to save time in preparation. HOME LIFE and the INDIVIDUAL, the key-notes.

WM. I. BETTS, M.A. (Yale), Principal.

THE KING SCHOOL, STAMFORD, CONN.

One hundred and twelve boys have been successfully prepared here for college in recent years. Of these a large number have entered Yale. Ten boarding pupils are taken at $600 each.

Out-of-Door-Life and Study for Boys.

THE ADDRESS OF

MR. THACHER'S SCHOOL
is Nordhoff, [Southern] California.

GIRLS' SCHOOLS.

MRS. AND MISS CADY'S

BOARDING AND DAY SCHOOL FOR GIRLS.

56 Hillhouse Avenue, New Haven.

Primary, Intermediate and Finishing Courses of Study, and College Preparatory. Certificate admits to College. Circulars sent on application. Number in family limited.

ST. MARGARET'S SCHOOL
WATERBURY, CONN.

MISS MARY R. HILLARD, Principal.

Reference by permission to President Dwight, Yale University; Principal C. F. P. Bancroft, Phillips Academy.