

Haven, where the Fire Department is demoralized by politics—the Fire Department, whose welfare is of more interest to each one of us than all the foreign colonies which we can gather in; other political impossibilities, like assuring suffrage to the negro, or establishing sound money. Americans are restricted by the laws of human nature, like anyone else.

Professor Sumner closed with an analysis of the purposes of the founders of our government, the conditions which they considered necessary for its existence, their hopes and their ideals, and asked if we were ready to throw away all that had been realized and to make further realization of these hopes impossible by deliberately choosing, not the way of the American Republic, but the way of imperialistic Spain.

PROM PLANS.

Festivities Begin on Monday—Class Teas, and Concert.

The arrangements for the Junior Promenade of the Class of Nineteen Hundred and for the attending teas and dances have practically been completed. No entertainment will be given on Saturday as at last year's Prom.

The Prom itself will be held at the Second Regiment Armory on Tuesday night, Jan. 24. The committee in charge is composed of Percy Avery Rockefeller of New York, Chairman; Stuart Brown Camp of Winsted, Conn., floor manager; James Cowan Greenway of Hot Springs, Ark.; Frederick Baldwin Adams of Toledo, O.; William Lyon Chittenden of Binghamton, N. Y.; Matthew Mills of Chicago; Alanson Judson Baker of Gloversville, N. Y.; Bascom Johnson of Washington, D. C., and Malcolm Douglas of Albany, N. Y.

Koster of New York has charge of the decorations, which will be in pink and white and will be draped upon the walls and boxes to give the effect of paneling. Lander will again furnish the music with a string band and orchestra stationed as in previous years, one on each side of the armory. Champion of New Haven and Maresi of New York will look after the floral decorations and the supper respectively.

The festivities of Prom week will be begun on Monday, January 23, with the german at the Colony, the new Berzelius house, from eleven until two o'clock.

The class teas will be given in the afternoon from four until six. Mrs. E. Hayes Trowbridge will give the Senior Class tea at her residence, 310 Temple street. Mrs. William W. Farnam, 335 Prospect street, will give the Junior tea and Mrs. W. K. Townsend, 148 Grove street, the Sophomore tea.

The Prom Concert will be given in the Hyperion Theatre, on Monday evening, by the University Glee and Banjo clubs. The program will be in the main the same as the one rendered on the Christmas trip by the clubs, the soloists being Messrs. Sheehan, L. S. Schneelock, M. S. Douglass, 1900, Noble, '99, Lyon, 1900, and Simmons, 1900.

PROM WEEK AHEAD.

Something on the program for every afternoon and evening. It's a frock coat, or a dress suit all the while, and a Knox silk hat, of course.

CLASS GERMAN.

Immediately after the Prom Concert the class germans and the Cloister dance will be held. Weil of New Haven will furnish the music, Champion the floral decorations and Maresi of New York the supper, for all of them.

F. H. Brooke, '99, and W. E. S. Griswold, '99, will lead the Senior german, which will be given in Lenox Hall. About thirty-five couples will dance. There will be five sets of paper favor figures and one silver souvenir favor. The patronesses will be Mrs. E. H. Trowbridge, Mrs. C. G. Stoddard, Mrs. G. H. Watrous of New Haven; Mrs. E. F. Sweet of Grand Rapids, and Mrs. Ledyard Cogswell of Albany.

JUNIOR GERMAN.

About one hundred couples will dance the Junior german. There will be four favor figures and one souvenir favor figure. F. B. Adams and S. B. Camp will lead. The patronesses will be Mrs. Albert M. Young of Toledo, Ohio, Mrs. Samuel Coffin of New York, Mrs. Charles T. Barney of New York, Mrs. William W. Farnam of New Haven, Mrs. D. C. Barton of Winsted, Conn., Mrs. W. H. Moseley of New Haven, and Mrs. G. C. Greenway of Hot Springs, Ark.

SOPHOMORE GERMAN.

About fifty couples will attend the Sophomore german. There will be four favor figures and one souvenir favor figure. The german will be led by H. S. Curtiss of Cleveland, and J. A. Keppelman of Reading, Pa. The "Yale 1901" two-step will be played for the first and last dances. Among the patronesses will be Mrs. Henry L. Hotchkiss of New Haven, and Mrs. R. H. Robertson of New York.

"SHEFF." TEAS.

The Cloister tea will be held from four until seven o'clock. The patronesses are: Mrs. H. B. Sargent, Mrs. Walter Camp, Mrs. W. A. Day and Mrs. C. Hall of New Haven, Mrs. E. K. Norton of Detroit, Mrs. W. J. Brown of Hartford, Mrs. E. H. Bolton of Cleveland and Mrs. W. O. Hickok of Harrisburg.

The annual tea given by St. Anthony's Hall will be held at the Hall, corner of College and Wall streets, on Tuesday, January 24, from 4 until 7 o'clock. The patronesses will be: Mrs. Eli Whitney, Mrs. Henry F. English, Mrs. William W. Farnam, Mrs. Robert N. Corwin, Mrs. Steven Whitney, Mrs. Henry L. Hotchkiss, Mrs. Grace K. Ingersoll, Mrs. C. Purdy Lindsley, Mrs. Charles H. Townshend, all of New Haven, and Mrs. William G. Warder of Germantown, Pa.

The St. Elmo tea will be given at the Hall, 133 Grove street, on the same afternoon from 4 until 6. The patronesses will be: Mrs. Seth E. Thomas of New York, Mrs. George Townsend of New Haven, Mrs. Ira Richards of North Attleborough, Mass., Mrs. Edward S. Dana of New Haven, Mrs. Walter Saunders of Montclair, N. J.; and Mrs. L. Bayard Smith of New York.

The Colony will give a tea at the same time, at which Mrs. George J. Brush, Mrs. Henry W. Farnam, Mrs. Frank L. Bigelow, Mrs. Horace L. Welles, Mrs. William C. Wurtenburg, Mrs. Isham Henderson, all of New Haven, and Mrs. Edward N. Saunders of St. Paul, and Mrs. George H. Treadwell of Albany, will act as patronesses.

The patronesses of the York Hall tea will be: Mrs. Lynde Harrison, Mrs. W. V. Coe, Mrs. D. J. Porter, Mrs. Benton, Mrs. McLaughlin, Mrs. G. H. Gray of New Haven, Mrs. G. L. White of Waterbury, Mrs. T. H. Pittinger of Brooklyn, Mrs. J. G. Noyes of Milford, Conn., Mrs. A. H. Gillette of Washington, and Mrs. Lewis of Springfield.

PRIVATE TEAS.

Several private teas will be given on Monday and Tuesday afternoons. The one given by Garrett Kip, 1901, in the Roxbury, from four until six Monday, will be the first.

At the same time H. Bissell, '99, and G. S. Chappell, '99, will give a tea at their rooms in 20 Vanderbilt.

Tuesday afternoon a tea will be given

CORNELL DECLINES.

Will Not Enter Race at New London on June 29.

As the WEEKLY goes to press it has been learned that Cornell under date of Dec 8, 1898, declined the warm invitation of Harvard to come into her race with Yale at New London on June 29. The conference between the representatives of Yale and Harvard held in Boston on Monday, Jan. 16, was to decide upon a plan of procedure, and resulted in a letter being sent to Cornell, signed by Captain Higginson of Harvard, in which, though regret at Cornell's decision was expressed, a firm stand was taken for New London.

The correspondence, coming so late, cannot be printed till the next issue.
