ILLINOIS SCHOLARSHIP.

Chicago Alumni Propose to Offer One Worth $1,000.

At the annual meeting of the Chicago Yale Alumni Association, which will be held in the University Club of Chicago on February 11th, a resolution will be introduced providing for the formation of a $1,000 scholarship for Yale University. It is the intention of the Executive Committee, who have the matter in charge, to have the scholarship supported, for the present, by voluntary annual subscription of the members of the Association, but it is hoped that ultimately a permanent fund will be established by contributions of larger amounts, the interest of which alone will go towards the scholarship. The scholarship will be awarded annually by the Executive Committee, to one or more needy and worthy students, preferably from Illinois.

The Committee having the work in charge consists of: C. T. Morse, '87, (Chairman); Dr. G. S. Isham, '81; Dr. Stuart Webster, '92; B. S. Cable, '95, and G. B. Phelps, Jr., '80S. They feel sure the resolution will meet with favor and be passed.

Wyoming Valley Association.

The Wyoming Valley Alumni Association of Wilkes-Barre, Penn., met for their annual banquet at the Westmoreland Club of that city on Saturday evening, January 7th, and enjoyed one of the best evenings in the history of the Association.

The toasts responded to during the course of the evening were for the most part impromptu.

After the dinner had been served the toastmaster, Judge Stanley Woodward, '55, spoke of the large part Yale men had taken in the stirring events of the past year, at Manila, at Santiago and at San Juan. The other speakers of the evening were: Sidney R. Miller, Harvard '88; F. W. Wheaton, '77; Felix Ansart, '59; John S. Harding, '80; John C. Bridgman, '85; Frank E. Donnelly, '93; C. N. Loveland, '94; F. G. Darte, '96; W. E. Woodruff, Wesleyan '87, and J. R. Edgar. Letters of regret were read from Judge H. E. Howland, '54, of New York and James Oakford, '84, of Scranton, Pa.,

These officers were elected for the coming year: President, Judge Stanley Woodward, '55; Vice-President, F. W. Wheaton, '77; Secretary and Treasurer, C. N. Loveland, '94; Executive Committee, W. H. Conyngham, '89S.; H. M. Harding, '75, and John C. Bridgman, '85.

In addition to those mentioned above the following were present: T. R. Hillard, '83; J. B. Woodward, '83; Thos. Darling, '86; A. A. Beaumont, '94; L.

B. Jones, '94; Herbert Conyngham, '95S.; C. C. Jones, '98; L. B. Hillard, '83; W. R. Ricketts, '92S.; H. M. Harding, '75; N. G. Pringle, '84; J. D. Farnham, '90, and Z. B. Phelps, '95.

Phi Beta Kappa News.

The Yale chapter of Phi Beta Kappa has never been in a more flourishing condition than at the present time. Meetings of the Society have been held fortnightly on Wednesday evenings in the new room in White Hall and have been well attended. The private meetings consist of the reading of a paper by some professor or member of the Society on the some interesting subject, after the regular routine business of the meeting has been disposed of. This makes the meetings less formal and more social than those of previous years.

The following papers have been read so far this College year: "The Standard of Pronunciation," by Professor Lounsbury; "An Analysis of the Symphony Concerts," by Professor Parker; "Psychical Activities of the Lower Animals," by Dr. Mendel; "The Value of Foreign Travel," by S. D. Ames, '99; "Some Aspects of Rome," by Mr. H. C. Robbins. Many of these papers have been illustrated by the use of a blackboard, and have been much enjoyed. Among the papers which are to be read before the Society during the coming term are those by Ballinger Mills, '99, on "The Dreyfus Case"; G. M. Carleton, '99, on "Sentimentalism and American Popular Songs;" and Professor D. C. Eaton, on "Canterbury Cathedral," the latter being more in the form of a lecture.

In addition to the private meetings, the Phi Beta Kappa Society offers a course of public lectures which are given in College Street Hall from time to time. Professor Sumner delivered a lecture in this course on Monday evening last, the subject of the lecture being, "The Conquest of the United States by Spain," a summary of which appears elsewhere in these columns. Among the lecturers in this course who are to lecture shortly is Mr. Donald G. Mitchell, the novelist.

The annual banquet of the Society will be held in March, when the election of new members will take place.

JOHN GRAHAM, President Inst. of Accountants and Actuaries, Glasgow, says:

"By means of Life Insurance many a home has been made happy which would otherwise have become desolate, old age made easy when it would have been burdensome, and the bread-winner has been enabled to look out into the future with tranquillity instead of with anxiety and care."
