TENEYCK SPEAKERS.

Brief Sketches of the Men who Will Speak on Friday.

The annual Junior Exhibition and Henry James TenEyck prize competition will be held on Friday afternoon of this week, at 3 o'clock in Battell Chapel.

The prizes for this competition are the income of a fund of twenty-six hundred dollars, established in 1888 by the Kingsley Trust Association, in memory of Henry James TenEyck, a graduate of Yale in the Class of Seventy-Two. Twenty-four essays were submitted this year. Below is printed a brief sketch of each of the eight men selected for the competition in the order in which they will speak, and the titles of their essays:

Bascom Johnson of Washington, D. C., prepared for Yale at Worcester Academy, Worcester, Mass. He was captain of the track team there, and since coming to Yale has been prominent in athletics. He wrote on the subject, "St. Paul."

Walter Sharp Page comes from Columbus, Ohio, with Philips' Academy, Andover as his preparatory school. He chose for the subject of his essay, "Charlemagne."

William Sloane Coffin who wrote on the subject, "St. Paul," lives in New York City and before coming to Yale, attended the Cutler School of that place. He has been a prominent religious worker during his course, having had charge, in his Junior year, with a classmate, of the Dwight Hall City Mission work on Grand avenue. He is also a member of Phi Beta Kappa, getting his election on a Philosophical Oration.

Frank Marion Atterholt, Jr. of Akron, Ohio, will be the fourth speaker. He also prepared at Andover and was one of the Robinson Prize debaters there. "St. Paul" is the subject of his essay.

Maurice Philip Gould comes from Warmego, Kansas, and was fitted for College at Washburn Academy, Topeka, Kansas. He entered the Sophomore class last year and is making a special study of English. His essay is on the subject, "Schiller."

Henry Thomas Hunt is from Cincinnati, Ohio, where he prepared at the Franklin School. Like three other contestants he will speak on the subject, "St. Paul."

Howard Speer also of Cincinnati, Ohio, was prepared for College at the Hughe's High School of that place. In his Senior year in High School he was editor-in-chief of the School paper, Old Hughes, and also won the Senior oratorical prize. He is a prominent track athlete and was one of Yale's representatives in both the dual and Intercollegiate games last year. "The American Soldier" is the subject which he chose.

The last speaker of the afternoon will be Charlton Brice Thompson of Covington, Ky. He was prepared for College by a private tutor. The subject of his essay will be "Gladstone and Bismarck."

Record Officers Elected.

At the meeting of the Record board held March 15th, George Melville Shepherd, 1900, of New York City, was elected to complete the board of editors from the Junior class. Record owls were also awarded to George Shepard Chappel, '99, of New London, and to John Leo Gilson, '99, of New Haven, for the excellency of their work during Senior year.

On the following evening the Nineteen Hundred board met for organization and chose Edward Buffum Hill for Chairman, and Herman Armour Webster, 1900 S., for Business Manager.

The new Board will assume charge of the paper with the first number after the Easter vacation.

The retiring Board is as follows: Charles E. Hay, Jr., Springfield, Ill., Chairman; Henry H. Tompkins, Jr., Denver, Col., Business Manager; John B. Adams, New York City; Harold C. Cheney, New London, Conn.; Edward F. Hinkle, Ashland, Wisc.; Huntington Mason, Chicago, Ill.; Marvyn Scudder, New York City; Henry B. B. Yergason, Cincinnati, Ohio.

The Nineteen Hundred Board is made up as follows: Edward B. Hill Yonkers, N. Y., Chairman; Herman A. Webster, 1900 S., Chicago, Ill., Business Manager; Horace S. Brown, 1900 S., Longmeadow, Mass.; George M. Shepherd, New York City; Chauncey B. Spears, New York City; Warren P. Thorpe, Philadelphia, Pa.; Keyes Winter of Indianapolis, Ind.

A review of the work of the retiring board will appear in the next issue.

Corporation Meeting.

At the meeting of the Yale Corporation on Thursday, March 16, the resignation of Prof. James M. Hoppin, Yale '40, from the professorship of the History of Art, was accepted and he was asked to continue his connection with the University as Professor Emeritus. Besides the appointment of new tutors and the advancement of assistants noted in another column, the Corporation, being in favor of the erection on the Campus of a statue to Nathan Hale, appointed the following Committee to take the matter into consideration and report plans: Senator Joseph R. Hawley, of Hartford; Professor J. E. Weir; Rev. Dr. T. T. Munger, '51; Hon. S. E. Merwin, New Haven; Morris W. Seymour, '66, Bridgeport; Howard Mansfield, '71, New York; Jonathan Trumbull, Norwich, Conn; George D. Seymour, and Lewis S. Welch, '89, New Haven.

Following the routine work there was a general discussion of the Presidency situation, but no action was taken.

The Scrub Crews.

The regular work of the various class and "scrub" crews, which together compose the Dunham Boat Club has been begun and already ten crew squads have been organized. Several others will be formed and the final number will probably be about the same as last year, sixteen in all.

The Athletic Committee of Harvard has decided that they will not allow a crew to race the Dunham Crew at the Yale Spring Regatta, at Lake Whitney, May 20th, as was expected. It is possible, however, that the Dunham Crew may meet the Weld and Newell Crews of Harvard in a triangular race, on the Charles River sometime in May.

A temporary foot bridge will be placed across West river for the convenience of those going to the athletic events at the Field, while the new steel bridge is being built.
