

FACULTY APPOINTMENTS.

Sketches of the Men Who Were Appointed and Advanced Last Week.

At the Corporation meeting held on March 16, three new appointments were made and six promotions of assistants in different subjects to instructorship given. A brief sketch of each man follows:

Sherwood O. Dickerman, who was elected to a tutorship in Greek in the Academic Department, graduated from Yale with Class of Ninety-Six, and was awarded the Soldiers' Memorial Fellowship. He has held this Fellowship for the past three years, and has spent the last two in Athens in connection with the American School of Classical Studies there. He is well fitted for the position of tutor of Greek.

C. U. Clark was appointed Tutor in Latin. Mr. Clark graduated from Yale in 1897, and during his College course won several prizes, the C. Wyllys Betts Prize, Winthrop Prize, a second prize in TenEyck speaking, the Scott Prize in French and the Thacher Prize. He was a Φ . B. K. man and while in College was prominent in debating, against both Harvard and Princeton. In May, 1898, he went abroad and while in Europe studied at Munich and Grenoble, and later at the American School of Classical Studies at Rome, from which institution he holds a scholarship. Mr. Clark is at present traveling through Greece.

Milton B. Porter, who was appointed Instructor in Mathematics, is a graduate of the University of Texas, but he spent several years in study at Harvard and received the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in 1897. Since that time he has been teaching Mathematics in the University of Texas.

Dr. Gervase Green, who was advanced from an assistant to an Instructor in Philosophy, was fitted for College at Mt. Hermon, Mass., and was graduated from Yale in the Class of 1894. He was granted the Macy Fellowship and spent the next three years as a post graduate student here, serving also as Lecturer in Philosophy during the last year. In 1897 he was given the degree of Doctor of Philosophy and has since been assistant, chiefly to Professor Ladd, in Philosophy and Pedagogy.

Dr. Isaac K. Phelps was similarly promoted to be Instructor in Chemistry in the Kent Laboratory. Dr. Phelps prepared for Yale at the Enfield High School, Thompsonville, Conn., and was a member of the Class of Ninety-Four. After graduation he held the Silliman Fellowship for three years and was assistant in the Kent Laboratory. In 1897, Dr. Phelps was given the degree of Doctor of Philosophy and also received the Thayer Scholarship from Harvard, where he spent the following year in study of Organic Chemistry. He returned to New Haven last Fall and resumed his position as assistant in the Laboratory.

Dr. George D. Kellogg was appointed tutor in Latin. Mr. Kellogg graduated from Yale in the Class of Ninety-Five and besides making Phi Beta Kappa won the following honors and scholarships during his course: Woolsey Scholarship; Berkeley premium, first grade; Thomas Glasby Waterman Scholarship; First Lucius Robinson Prize in both Sophomore and Junior years; Bristed Scholarship. After graduating Mr. Kellogg entered the Graduate Department at Yale, taking the degree of Ph.D. in 1898, and during this time he taught for one year, 1896-97, as substitute for Dr. Thompson. He is planning to spend a year abroad, if possible, before entering his work.

Dr. T. W. Heermance now Tutor in Greek was appointed Instructor in Greek and Archaeology in the College. Dr. Heermance prepared for Yale at the Alexander Military Institute of White Plains, N. Y. and was graduated from the University in the Class of Ninety-Three. The first three years after graduation he spent in post-graduate work, studying in New Haven the first year and in the American School at Athens the next two years. Returning to America, Dr. Heermance was made Tutor in Greek in the Fall of Ninety-Seven and in June of the following year was given the degree of Doctor of Philosophy.

Dr. Warren J. Moulton now an Assistant was made a full Instructor in the College, in Biblical Literature. Dr. Moulton graduated from the Yale Divinity School in 1893, having previously graduated from Amherst in 1888. After taking his degree in the Divinity School, Dr. Moulton studied for a year and a half in the School under the Hooker Fellowship, then went to Germany and studied at Göttingen, taking his Doctor's examination there in June, 1898, entering on his duties in College last Fall.

A Short Sermon.

A very advanced Dominie at Hasbrouck Heights, N. J., conceived the idea of a novel Sunday evening service; so he prepared his sermon—a short one—and several hymns and scripture readings the day before on a number of cylinders, and he actually held the meeting, "as advertised." The affair created quite a sensation at the time, quite a sensation indeed. Inside of a month the Rev. Mr. Dominie was preaching in a church out West,—preaching, mind you,—no more phonograph for him. Well, it simply proves the truths of saying, "Everything in its proper place."

Another Thaw

Will leave the links a bit mushy but passable. This blizzard has spoiled a lot of golfing on the Atlantic coast. Our Eastern golf trade has not been all quiet, however, for the time has been utilized to get ready for the Spring. Just looking over a Spalding Catalogue makes a good deal of business for us. It's the encyclopedia of sport. Haven't you one?
