

Eastern New York Dinner.

The Yale Alumni Association of Eastern New York held its annual meeting and banquet at the Fort Orange Club Wednesday evening, April 5th, about 50 members being present. The officers of the Association were: President, Hon. William L. Learned, '41; Vice-President, Hon. Henry T. Nason, '86, of Troy; Secretary and Treasurer, Colonel George Curtis Treadwell, '75. The Dinner Committee in charge of the banquet was: Lieutenant-Governor Timothy L. Woodruff, '79; John K. Howe, '71; Clark T. Durant, '90; James W. Eaton, '79, and George Curtis Treadwell. In the absence of President Learned, Vice-President Nason presided. The invited guests for the evening were: Hon. William J. Young, Secretary to Governor Roosevelt, a graduate of Cornell, who made a most inspiring address upon the relationship between Yale and Cornell; Joseph Vernon; Hon. Horace White of Syracuse, a Cornell graduate who also spoke in behalf of Cornell; Captain Frank Hinkey of the Class of Ninety-Four, Yale, also spoke. Julian W. Curtiss, '79, an invited guest, entertained the Association with a delightful talk on Yale athletics, reiterating that Yale spirit had not by any means died out. Dr. Livermore spoke of Yale as the founder of colleges. Lieut.-Governor Woodruff acted as toastmaster.

The Association unanimously passed a resolution requiring the fee for membership should be placed at $1.00 per year.

At the conclusion of the speaking, the annual election of officers for the ensuing year took place, resulting in the election of Hon. William L. Learned, '41, President; Hon. Henry T. Nason, '86, Vice-President; Charles E. McElroy, Secretary and Treasurer. The Dinner Committee for next year consist of Hon. T. L. Woodruff, '79; Col. Francis N. Mann, '70; C. S. McChesney, '81; Dr. W. W. Saymore; L. H. Tucker, Jr., '91, and Lewis R. Parker, '92.

The Association is in a very flourishing condition, but owing to the inability of a large number of members to be present, the event was not quite as largely attended as the preceding year.

It is particularly desired by the members of the Association that all Yale alumni within the territory of Eastern New York send their names to the Secretary in order that they may be included in the invitation list for next year, and this includes all Yale men who will graduate this coming June.

"Gowf."

You can pronounce it that way or any other way that appeals to your discriminating sense of Orthoepy. The choice of pronunciation is a deliberate act for which there is plenty of time and a multitude of contradictory authorities to suit all preconceived prejudices.

But when it comes to the game itself, one is precipitated into a succession of mental and moral crises, when the judicial sense flees and the sensitive Caddy flees, and gentle people look the other way, and when one's state of mind makes it quite impossible to discriminate as to either the form or the substance of one's language. You can reduce the number and the intensity of these crises considerably by making the tools you work with the best that can be found. You can address A. G. Spalding & Bros., at either New York or Chicago.
