Yale, 7; Lafayette, 6.

The Yale-Lafayette game played at Yale Field, Wednesday, May 3, was won by the University team in the ninth inning, the final score standing 7 to 6. The game was closely contested throughout and at the opening of the eighth inning the score was tied, four to four. Yale failed to score in her half, but Sullivan's error allowed two Lafayette men to cross the plate. When Yale went to bat in the ninth three runs were necessary to win the game. deSaulles bunted, Quinby struck out, Chalmers let Wear's hit get by him, and deSaulles scored. Yale's next batter, Wallace, hit a long fly into left center, a good three-base hit, which was turned into a home run, when Bray, Lafayette's center fielder, fell while running after the ball. Wallace's run won the game, for Lafayette was easily retired in the last half of the inning.

With the exception of the fourth and fifth innings, when Lafayette succeeded in making three singles and two doubles, Robertson pitched steadily, keeping the hits well scattered, striking out seven men and allowing but one base on balls. Bronson's and Sullivan's errors brought Yale's work in the field below the usual standard. Yale's batting was not heavy, but opportune, deSaulles, Wear, Quinby and Wallace making timely hits.

Yale, 13; Dartmouth, 6.

The University Nine won from Dartmouth at Yale Field on Saturday, by the score of 13 to 6. Wretched work by the Yale infield in the second and third innings allowed the visiting team to score five runs, but Yale then steadied down and Dartmouth's effective batting in the eighth netted their only additional run. Yale was unable to hit Cook of Dartmouth successfully during the early part of the game, but heavy and timely batting, in which Wear, Wallace and Camp led, coupled with a number of errors by Dartmouth's players, resulted in thirteen runs during the last five innings. Cook of Yale pitched well, keeping his opponent's hits effectively scattered, except in the eighth inning. Wear played a brilliant game in center, but Yale's field work in general was far below the average. The game was limited to eight innings in order to allow the Dartmouth party to catch their train.

Yale 1902, 13; Williston, 0.

The Freshman Baseball team defeated the Williston Academy team at Easthampton, Mass., Tuesday, May 2, by the score 13 to 0. The victory, as the score indicates, was an easy one and was due to bunching of hits by the Freshmen and the inability of the Academy team to hit either Baer or Garvan. During the entire game only one member of the Williston nine got beyond first base.

The word can be run together and then we could continue the ad as follows:

"Our stock is particularly strong in hose just imported from Welch, Margetson & Co. of London."

Or we could make it two words and then make comments on the wisdom of choosing and using the best materials and the best colors that the world's factories can produce. But that isn't necessary.
