NOTICES.

[Alumni Association and Class Secretaries are invited to contribute to this column.]

Ninety-Four Sexennial.

The following circular has been sent to each member of the Class of Ninety-Four:

"In view of the fact that the 200th anniversary of Yale is to be celebrated in October, 1901, and not at Commencement in June, 1901, it has been suggested to the Sexennial Committee of the Class that the next re-union should be held in June, 1900, and not 1901, as was decided by the Class at their Triennial Meeting. In order that the Committee may have an expression of opinion from the whole Class, will you kindly indicate your preference.

Frank L. Polk; Letchworth Smith; J. C. Brown, Committee, Class of 1894."
