

The First and Second Freshman race was an interesting one to watch, the First winning by one and a half lengths and in good form in record time, six minutes and thirty seconds for the mile and a quarter course. The First Freshman also won the decisive race over the 1901 crew, which had beaten 1900 two hours before, with two lengths of open water. In the race between the University and College crews the former won easily with a long slow stroke. The precision of blade and body was much admired as the former jumped away from the College just before the bridge was reached, rowing in nearly perfect form.

The results of the two days racing follows:

The summary of the races is as follows: the first three heats being rowed on Friday:

First race—Welch Hall vs. Favonian. Welch Hall won by three lengths. Time, 5 minutes 13 seconds.

Second race—Gentlemen's Eight vs. Coystrels. Coystrels won by half a length. Time, 5 minutes 5 seconds.

Third race—Welch Hall vs. Harlequins. Harlequins won by a length and a half. Time, 5 minutes 2 seconds.

Yale, 10; Wesleyan, 6.

The Yale-Wesleyan game played at Middletown, Wednesday, May 17, was won by the University Nine, the score standing 10 to 6. Cook, who pitched the first five innings for Yale, was rather unsteady, though fairly effective against the Wesleyan batters, and was succeeded by Gibson. Captain deSaulles played a fast game in the field and Bronson led at the bat with three hits. Anderson, of Wesleyan, was brilliant at short-stop and batted well.

Yale, 7; Orange A. C., 3.

Yale defeated the Orange Athletic Club Nine at East Orange, N. J., on Saturday by a score of 7 to 3. Yale took the lead in the first inning and maintained it without difficulty throughout the game. Robertson pitched his characteristically steady game, allowing but one base on balls and eight hits and striking out six men. Three brilliant double-plays made by Yale's outfield were features of the game. Quinby played third base on the University

Nine, taking the place of Bronson, who had been injured in practice the previous day, and Eddy of last year's nine was in his old position in left field, which Quinby has held during the past month. Quinby, who made four hits, led the Yale team at the bat.

Georgetown, 12; Yale, 7.

On Monday, May 22, Georgetown added another victory to the two scored over Yale, on the Southern trip. The game was played at Yale Field, and the final score stood 12 to 7. Cook's unsteady work in the box and Waddell's inexcusable errors at first base were largely responsible for Yale's defeat. The Yale batsmen secured eight singles and three two-base hits off Bach and White, but were unable to hit at the right time, as is indicated by the fact that Yale had fourteen men left on bases. The work of Yale in the field was also below the usual standard. Georgetown took advantage of Cook's wildness, scoring six of the seven men he sent to first.
