

Morgan Walcott, '88 S., was commissioned as Ensign June 15, 1898, on the auxiliary cruiser Yale, but was in the service from May 1, acting in the same capacity. Served as Watch Officer on the Yale, and as Executive Officer on the Rita, taking the latter vessel into port when she was captured as a prize by the Yale.

His previous experience was in the merchant marine, having been an officer on the Paris when she was taken into the United States Navy.

Eighty-Eight M. S.

Henry R. Stiles, '88 M.S., served as Captain and Assistant Surgeon in the United States Army Hospital train from June 17, 1898, to Aug. 4, 1898. The Hospital train was engaged in transporting sick and wounded from the large camps at Tampa and Chickamauga, to the General Hospitals at Fort McPherson, Ga., and Fort Thomas, Ky. Given sick leave of absence, Aug. 4.

COL. GEO. CURTIS TREADWELL, '93 S.

Previous to the outbreak of the war Dr. Stiles enlisted in the Medical Department of the United States Army, Nov. 10, 1892. He was First Lieutenant and Assistant Surgeon from Nov. 10, 1892, until Nov. 10, 1897, and was Captain and Assistant Surgeon from Nov. 10, 1897.

Eighty-Nine S.

A. H. Day, '89 S., was appointed June 27, 1898, Lieutenant in the United States Navy. Commanded the U. S. S. Viking from June 27 to July 4; commanded the U. S. S. Restless from July 4 to Sept. 1. Was Navigating Officer of the U. S. S. Buffalo from July 16 to July 25. The Viking and the Restless were used during the above periods for harbor defense and as despatch boats in the Third District Auxiliary Naval Force. The Buffalo was brought from the Norfolk, Va., Navy Yard to the New York Navy Yard. Ordered home to await orders, Sept. 1, 1898. Honorably discharged Sept. 8.

Previous to the war was Lieutenant-Commander of the Connecticut Naval Battalion from Feb. 24, 1897.

Henry P. Hall, '89 S., enlisted April 30, 1898, as seaman on the U. S. S. Yankee. Left Brooklyn Navy Yard May 10, doing patrol duty off the Long Island and Massachusetts coast until May 29, then going to the southern coast of Cuba. Engaged batteries at Santiago with rest of fleet, June 6, the bombardment lasting over three hours. Destroyed block house and shore battery at Guantanamo, June 7. On June 13, engaged alone, fort at Cienfuegos and Spanish gunboat Diego de Velasco, sinking the latter. One man wounded on Yankee; several lost on gunboat. Bombarded Port Casilda and engaged small gunboat, June 20. Continuous cruising until about Aug. 1, then lay at anchor some time at Guantanamo. Ship went in reserve at Philadelphia Sept. 1.

Previous to entering the United States service, had served two years in New York Naval Reserves.

A. René Moën, '89 S., enlisted May 20, 1898, as First Sergeant in Troop A, New York Volunteer Cavalry, at Camp Black, Hempstead, L. I. The Troop was encamped at Hempstead from May 2 to May 23. Moved to Camp Alger, Falls Church, Va., via Jersey City and Washington, D. C., and camped there from May 26 till July 29, then going to Newport News, Va. Sailed for Porto Rico, Aug. 3, 1898, on the transport Massachusetts. Camped near Ponce, Porto Rico, from Aug. 8 to Sept. 2. While in Porto Rico, the troop was sent in detachments all over the island. Commanded special detachment sent to Santa Isabel, Porto Rico, to preserve order. Sailed from Porto Rico, Sept. 3, on the transport Mississippi. Furloughed for sixty days, Sept. 11. Mustered out of the service of the United States, Nov. 28, 1898.

Re-entered Squadron "A," N. G. N. Y., later was elected Second Lieutenant of Troop II.

Eighty-Nine L. S.

E. G. Buckland, '89 L.S., served until Aug. 1, 1898, as Commander of the Naval Battalion, C. N. G. Went into camp at Camp Haven, Niantic, Conn., June 6, 1898. Mustered in Battalion, June 15, 1898; commissioned Lieutenant, United States Navy, June 26, 1898, and appointed to command U. S. S. Viking. Declined commission June 30, 1898. Resigned commission as Commander Naval Battalion, C. N. G., Aug., 1898.

Previous to the war, served in the Naval Battalion, C. N. G., as seaman in 1893; Ensign in 1893; Lieutenant (J. G.) 1894; Lieutenant Commander, 1895; Commander, 1897.

Ninety.

Captain Edward L. Munson, '90, Assistant Surgeon, United States Army, was stationed at Fort Adams, Newport, R. I., when the war broke out. He was then ordered with the Second Regiment, United States Artillery, to Camp Thomas, Chickamauga, Ga., and shortly afterwards was sent to Port Tampa, Fla., where he was assigned to duty in the office of the Chief Surgeon, Fifth Army Corps. Upon the sailing of the expedition for Santiago, he went in the capacity of Staff Officer with Major-General Shafter. He assisted in organizing field hospitals in the active campaign which followed, and personally superintended the fitting out of the first four hospital ships which returned with wounded to this country. He, in charge of the Breakwater, arrived at Newport News, Va., about July 16. He was then placed in charge of the United States Military Hospital at Fortress Monroe, Va., with a corps of assistants under him. By personal request, he was then sent to Tampa and put in command of the Reserve Ambulance Company, Fourth Army Corps, and was under orders upon the signing of the protocol of peace with Spain, to take transport for Porto Rico. Captain Munson was assigned to Surgeon-General's Sternberg's office at Washington, during August and now has charge of the general correspondence of that office.

Stowe Phelps, '90, enlisted May 2, 1898, in Troop A, New York Volunteer Cavalry as a Sergeant. The Troop was in camp at Camp Black, Hempstead, L. I., until the latter part of May, when it proceeded to Camp Alger, Falls Church, Va. Moved to Newport News, July 23. Embarked with their horses on the transport Massachusetts for Porto Rico, July 28. Arrived at Porto Rico, Aug. 4. Embarked at Porto Rico on the transport Mississippi, arriving at New York Sept. 10, 1898. The Troop was furloughed for sixty days, Sept. 11. Mustered out of the service of the United States, Nov. 28, 1898.

Previous to the outbreak of the war, he had been for four years a member of Squadron A, N. G. N. Y.

Ninety S.

W. F. Judson, '90 S., was mustered into the United States service, May 13, 1898, as Captain of Company E, Twelfth Regiment, New York Volunteers, at Camp Townsend, Peekskill, N. Y. Moved to Camp Thomas, Chickamauga Park, Ga., May 17, and to Lexington, Ky., Aug. 24. Moved to Camp Gilman, Americus, Ga., Nov. 13; left for Charleston, S. C., Dec. 26, to take steamer for Matanzas, Cuba; arrived there Jan. 1, 1899. On Jan. 24, left for

JUST PUBLISHED

A PORTRAIT IN FINE ART OF

Rev. Timothy Dwight, D.D., LL.D.

President of Yale University.

A SOUVENIR
OF 1899.

A WORK OF ART.

JAMES S. KING, Etcher.

Size of plate, 14 x 18.

EDITION LIMITED.

Two Hundred and Fifty Artist Proofs.

Autographed by Rev. Timothy Dwight, D.D., LL.D.

Copyrighted and Published by

CHARLES BARMORE,

Publisher of

Fine Art Portrait Etchings and Mezzotints of Famous Men.

10 WALL STREET, NEW YORK.

Catalogue on Application.

Ninety L. S.

N. W. Bishop, '90 L.S., was commissioned June 22, 1898, as Lieutenant, Junior Grade, United States Navy. Second in command of U. S. S. Enquirer on duty off Sandy Hook. Temporarily in command of Enquirer from about July 14 to Aug. 1; during absence of Lieutenant Stayton detailed to command U. S. S. Buffalo. Second in command of U. S. S. Restless on duty off Montauk Point, Enquirer having been ordered out of commission about Aug. 1. Honorably discharged from service, Sept. 8, 1898.

Previous to the war, was Paymaster of Naval Battalion, C. N. G., on staff of Commander E. G. Buckland; Ordnance Officer on staff Commander E. V. Reynolds.

Ninety-One.

John Lee Bunce, '91, was commissioned as Assistant Paymaster in the United States Navy, May 4, 1898. He reported for duty on the United States receiving ship Wabash at Boston Navy Yard, May 10. May 14, reported on U. S. S. Yosemite at Newport News as Pay Officer. The Yosemite was on the Havana blockade—then convoyed marine battalion from there to Guantanamo Bay where it assisted in landing of marines. On blockade off Santiago and cruising off Jamaica. At the end of June, the Yosemite blockaded San Juan alone for about three weeks, beaching the Spanish steamship Antonio Lopez. In the engagement over the Lopez, the Yosemite was under close fire of 9 or 10-inch guns of the Morro and fire of a Spanish cruiser and two gunboats. The three Spanish men-of-war were driven back inside the harbor. This engagement began at 5.30 a. m. on June 28, and lasted till eight, when the Yosemite retired for breakfast. The action was resumed after breakfast with the above results. Continued on blockade until July 15, when relieved by U. S. S. New Orleans. Yosemite ordered to St. Thomas by Commodore Watson as one of the Eastern Squadron, with orders to stock up with four months' supplies for cruise to Spain. The Yosemite was at Santiago de Cuba, for duty as Aide-de-camp to Major-General Leonard Wood, commanding department.

Previous to the war, Captain Judson was Captain of Company E, Twelfth Regiment, N. G. N. Y., which was mustered into service as Company E, Twelfth Regiment, New York Volunteers. He was appointed as Second Lieutenant of Company E, Nov. 6, 1891; appointed First Lieutenant, Feb. 23, 1894; and Captain of Company E, July 30, 1895.

C. Emory McMichael, ex-'90 S., answered the first call as Sergeant of the First Troop, Philadelphia City Cavalry, and Sergeant-Major of the Pennsylvania Squadron of Cavalry from April 28 to May 30, 1898, at Mt. Gretna, Pa. He was appointed Major and Assistant Adjutant-General, United States Volunteers, May 12, and accepted the commission, May 30. Assigned to Second Army Corps, and on reporting at Camp Alger was made Assistant Adjutant-General of the Third Division. On June 21st, was instructed to report to the Adjutant-General in Washington and was then assigned as Assistant Adjutant-General of the Sixth Corps and ordered to report to Major-General James H. Wilson at Chickamauga, for temporary duty on his staff, and, on reporting, was announced as Senior Aide-de-camp. He proceeded with Major-General Wilson to Charleston, S. C., on July 6, and was directed to take the transport there for Santiago, but, on the outbreak of yellow fever, these orders were revoked and the expedition sailed instead on July 20, to Porto Rico. Participated in the first landing party at Playa, Port of Ponce, July 28, and served with General Wilson all through the active military hostilities on the island, returning to this country on Sept. 15. In view of satisfactory assurances of peace, he presented his resignation and was granted honorable discharge, to take effect Oct. 31, 1898. In September, Mr. McMichael was taken ill with typhoid fever.

Previous to the war, had served nine years in the Pennsylvania National Guard, in First Troop, Philadelphia City Cavalry.