

Changes in Medical Journal.

At the annual meeting of the Undergraduate and Advisory Boards of the Yale Medical Journal held on Monday afternoon, June 12, a very radical change was instituted in the policy of the Journal. It was voted to issue the magazine hereafter monthly throughout the entire year, the present volume consisting of but eight numbers. This step was found necessary owing to the rapid growth and great progress made in an already crowded field since its birth in 1894, but will not go into effect until next Fall. There will also be a change in the present management of the paper, the exact nature of which is not yet been decided. It will probably consist in the choosing of a permanent resident editor, who will be able to devote his entire time to the growing needs of the Journal. The subscription price will consequently be raised from two dollars to two dollars and a half. It was also voted to present the library of some two hundred volumes owned by the Journal to the Medical School. A part of these volumes will be retained in the present library at the Medical School and the others will be placed in the reference room of the Chittenden Library.

Changes and Degrees at Princeton.

Professor Winans, who has been in the Greek Department of Princeton since 1876, has been elected to the Dean's office, succeeding the late Dean Murray. Dr. Henry VanDyke, who enters the Faculty next Fall in the Murray chair of English Literature, resigns from the Board of Trustees and is succeeded by Mr. C. C. Cuyler. Professor Bliss Perry has been elected to the Professorship of Belles Lettres and English Languages and Literature, made vacant by the death of Dean Murray. Professor Perry held the Professorship of Oratory and Aesthetic Criticism. Professor Stockton Axon of Adelphi has been chosen as Assistant Professor in English and Assistant Professor Edwin S. Lewis has been promoted to Professor of Romance Languages. On June 13 at the annual dinner of the alumni in University Hall, a painting of Judge William Paterson, a graduate of Princeton in 1763, and Governor of New Jersey in 1791, was represented to the University Library. At the Commencement on Wednesday, June 14, the following honorary degrees were announced:

A.M.—Francis Gray Stewart, C.E., '96; Newton B. Turkington, '94; Frederick Crosby Torrey, former instructor in the School of Science.

L.H.D.—Prof. Basil Gildersleeve, Ph.D., LL.D., D.C.L., of Johns Hopkins.

D.D.—The Rev. Samuel T. Thompson of Florida, Class of '51.

LL.D.—William Scudde Stryker, '58, of New Jersey; John Bayard McPherson, '66, of Pennsylvania; Moses Allen Storr, M.D., '76; the Rev. W. A. P. Martin, D.D., LL.D., President of the Imperial University of China.

Princeton's War Record.

Professor Libbey of Princeton has gathered the records of the Princeton men who served in the war with Spain and published them in book form, occupying 125 pages. One hundred and sixty eight men, graduates and undergraduates served in the Army and Navy of the United States, of which 78 were officers.

Law School Shingle.

The Yale Shingle, published annually by the Senior Class of the Yale Law School, appeared recently. The book contains about one hundred and fifty pages and is edited by C. W. Birely, '96; F. S. Jackson, '96, and E. C. Simpson. There are cuts of each member of the graduating class, of President Dwight, the Law School Faculty, the Editors of the Law Journal and the baseball team. The features of the Shingle this year are special articles which have been written by President Dwight and Professor Foster. Articles have been written on each year of the course by T. B. Noone, F. E. Northrop '94 S., and A. L. Corbin. The following subjects have also been treated: "Athletics," by S. E. Hoyt, '97 S.; "Political," by J. B. Ullman; "Social," by C. S. Briggs; "Moot Courts," by L. C. Oakley, '96; "Kent Club," by C. H. Studinski, '97; "Law Journal," by Knox Maddox, '97, and other general articles by the editors.

The Senior Board of the Scientific Monthly have decided, acting under the advice of the judges, not to award the Chittenden gold medal this year. The medal was offered for the best article upon some scientific subject written by an undergraduate of the Scientific School, but the judges unanimously agreed that the articles which were handed in were much below the standard and deemed it best to withhold the College Year Ended.

Examinations in the Academic Department and in the Sheffield Scientific School commenced Thursday, June 8, and were completed Tuesday, June 20. The last regular Chapel service was on Monday morning, June 19.

If you miss any name or names in the Yale War Record, published in the special issue of June 7, will you not communicate as soon as you see this, with the YALE ALUMNI WEEKLY office? A supplementary record will be printed in the Commencement number. Three or four names have already been secured to add to the total, and there should be others.

At a meeting of the Dunham Boat Club held on June 1, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, W. L. Chittenden, 1900; purser, A. I. Kettle, 1900.

THE DWIGHT PORTRAIT.

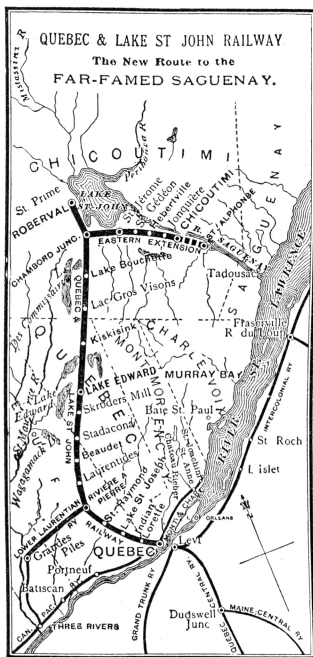

Yale Men who have not seen Mr. King's etching of the retiring President will have an opportunity in Commencement week, by calling at Room 20, New Haven House, where Mr. Barmore, the publisher, can be found at any time up to and including Commencement Day, June 28th.

This etching sustains the reputation of the publisher attained by his portraits of Chancellor Kent, after Rembrandt; Peale; Ambassador Joseph H. Choate, Hon. James C. Carter, and the late Judge Ashbel Green. Another portrait just finished by Mr. Barmore is that of the late Roswell P. Flower.

The publisher is anxious to have a critical examination of all these works by those who are at all interested. He may be addressed at any time:

Harvard Oratory.

At the last dinner of the Yale Alumni Association of Chicago, the President of the Chicago Harvard Association represented the Harvard Alumni, and very wittily touched upon some of the issues between the two colleges. He referred to the football score as follows: "It took Harvard men on Yale ground to discover that the Heaven born ratio was not 16 to 1, but 17 to 0, and on account of this discovery it is rumored that President Dwight has resigned and Mother Yale has left New Haven, and can now be found in a Chicago Department store, where she is engaged in the more profitable occupation of beautifying the weaker sex. Even the Sons of Yale are turning their thoughts to the betterment of the human race. If a man who can make two blades of grass grow where one grew before, deserves the thanks of his fellow men, how much greater the deserts of that loyal Son of Yale who is now engaged in stirring up our livers, before whom the grip germ flees as the mist before the sun, and who makes our pains a lullaby. Harvard takes off his hat to Chas L. Bartlett, the introducer of "Orangeine."

Hon. Frank H. Jones, ex-assistant Postmaster General and a prominent Chicago lawyer, says: "I carry 'Orangeine' always ready to 'head og' colds, headache and nervous exhaustion. It is 'great.'"

Hon. Frank Hamlin, one of Chicago's brightest lawyers, says: "The best 'bracer' during and after a tedious lawsuit, with no reaction later, is 'Orangeine.'"

Mr. William Gillette, the great actor, says of "Orangeine": "A most wonderful remedy; the only certain headache cure and the only one with absolutely no bad after effects."—Adv.
