EIGHTY-NINE DECENNIAL.

The following members of the Class of Eighty-Nine have definitely agreed to be present at decennial:

- |               |              |
|---------------|--------------|
| Ames.         | McQuaid.     |
| Austin.       | Merrill.     |
| Banks.        | Moore.       |
| Barstow.      | Mosle.       |
| Bishop, N. W. | Parsons.     |
| Bradner.      | Peres.       |
| Brewster.     | Pinchot.     |
| Brooks.       | Richardson.  |
| Browning.     | Robinson.    |
| Coggill.      | Schwilf.     |
| Cook.         | Scott, F. A. |
| Corbin.       | Shearman.    |
| Crummey.      | Sherrill.    |
| Cullinan.     | Skilton.     |
| Ensign.       | Smith, H. A. |
| Fisher.       | Smith, S. L. |
| Francke.      | Snipe.       |
| Gavegan.      | Stokes.      |
| Hull.         | Tuttle.      |
| Huntington.   | Valentine.   |
| Kent.         | Wallace.     |
| Lefler.       | Waring.      |
| Lucas.        | Welch.       |
| Luce.         | Wells, P. P. |
| McMahon.      | West.        |

Wylie.

Of the rest nine others are fairly sure to come. These are the following:

- |             |            |
|-------------|------------|
| Daniels.    | Peck.      |
| Griggs.     | Rockwell.  |
| McCandliss. | Rogers.    |
| Merrifield. | Underhill. |
- Vernon.

There are still thirty-six to hear from. Chances for a reunion of seventy-five or eighty seem very good. This, out of a total of one hundred and nineteen, will be almost a record breaker. The faster the replies come in from those not already heard from the better will it be for the committee and the better for the reunion.

YALE OBITUARIES.

ARTHUR PHINNEY, '64.

Arthur Phinney, '64, died at 4 A. M. on Sunday, May 21, 1899, at his home in Sandusky, Ohio. He was the son of James and Cynthia Mosher Phinney, and was born March 28, 1837, at Gorham, Me. He entered Dartmouth College in September, 1860, but left there at the end of the Freshman year, and entered the Class of Sixty-Four at Yale, with which class he graduated.

Immediately after graduating he received an appointment from Dr. B. A. Gould, of Harvard College, at the head of the Scientific Department of the Sanitary Commission, to a position in that department, for the collection of statistics, and was stationed in New York City until May, 1865, when he was transferred to Washington and Alexandria, Va., until August, 1865, at which time he resigned and returned to New York. His work was published by Dr. Gould in a volume of memoirs of the Sanitary Commission, and was specially approved by Dr. Gould. In the Fall of 1865 he was chosen Principal of Chester Academy at Chester, Orange County, New York, and remained there two years. From the Autumn of 1867 to the Spring of 1870 he was Principal of the High School at Sandusky, O. He studied Law at Sandusky, and in the Michigan Law School, and in December, 1862, was admitted to the bar of the Supreme Court at Columbus, O. Since then he has practiced Law in Sandusky, in the firms of Taylor & Phinney, 1873-76; Taylor, Phinney & King, 1876-79; alone, 1882-89; Phinney & Curran, 1889-90; alone, 1890-91; Phinney & Merrill, 1891 to 1897. He was a member of the Ohio Society, Sons of the American Revolution.

He was married July 15, 1868, to Miss Sarah E. Bell, who died January 7, 1898. Since his wife's death his health has failed, until the end came as stated above. On Tuesday, May 23, a meeting of the Erie County Bar was held, at which appreciative addresses were made, one of the speakers being his classmate, Judge I. P. Pugsley.

His funeral was held on Tuesday, May 23, 1899. Three daughters survive him, one being the wife of Professor Stephen F. Weston, of Adelbert College, Cleveland, Ohio.

HON. JOHN A. WILLIAMSON, '64.

Hon. John A. Williamson, A.M., LL.B., '64, died on Wednesday, April 19, 1899, at Norwalk, O., which has been his home since 1871.

Mr. Williamson was the son of James and Phoebe A. Williamson, and was born at New London, O., September 25, 1842. He entered Oberlin College in 1860, but left it in 1862 to take part in the defense of his state against the threatened invasion by Gen. Kirby Smith. In the Fall of 1863 he entered Yale and graduated in 1864. In 1865 he received the degree of LL.B. from the Albany Law School. After practicing his profession for several years at different places in Ohio and Indiana, he finally established himself at Norwalk, Ohio, in 1871. Here he has been engaged in law, politics and banking, served two terms (1877-1881) in the Ohio House of Representatives, and in January, 1880, was chosen Speaker. In 1892 he was appointed by Governor McKinley a member of the Board of Trustees of the Ohio State Institution for the education of feeble-minded youth at Columbus, and held this position at his death, having been reappointed in 1897 for another term of five years. He was President of the Huron County Banking Company of Norwalk, and a large stockholder in the Greenwick Bank, the Oberlin Bank, the Clyde Bank, and the Auburndale Banking Company of Toledo. He was married January 19, 1866, at Camden, Ohio, to Miss Celestia M. Tennant, who died November 5, 1880. He was married again June 22, 1882, at Norwalk, Ohio, to Miss Sarah Manahan, who survives him. He had no children. The funeral was held at his house on April 21, the services being in charge of the Norwalk Commandery of Knights Templar, of which he was Eminent Commander.
