YALE OBITUARIES.

THOMAS DARLING, '36.

Thomas Darling, '36, died in New York City, September 23.

Thomas Darling was born in New York City, April 13, 1816. His parents were Thomas Darling, Yale 1803, and Frances Frith. He was fitted for Yale in the school of Mr. A. N. Skinner in New Haven, and graduated from the College with the Class of Thirty-Six. While in College he was in the North Division and belonged to the Brothers in Unity. After graduating Mr. Darling took up business in New York City and later was interested in manufactur-

From one end of the land to the other, wherever men who demand the best are found, Fownes' Gloves are the recognized standard of merit and fashion. They are best for dress, for the street, for riding, driving, or golfing—for all occasions and all purposes. To wear them is to be correctly gloved. All leading haberdashers sell them.

The Golf Championships.

Harvard won the Intercollegiate Golf Championship last week on the links of the Garden City Golf Club. Percy Pyne, Jr., Princeton, won the individual championship.

A three column article covering the detail of the whole tournament is crowded out of this issue, but will appear next week.
