YALE NOTICES.

[Class and Association Secretaries are invited to contribute to this column.]

Fifty-Five.

The Class Committee of Fifty-Five, met at the Yale Club, New York, on the 8th, to make arrangements for the regular Class meeting in New Haven, in June, 1900. The members of the Committee present were: Hon. L. D. Brewster of Danbury; P. H. Woodward of Hartford; Edwin Corning and Rev. H. N. Cobb of New York.

Essex County (N. J.) Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Yale Alumni Association of Essex County (New Jersey) will be held at Davis's Restaurant Music Hall Building, Orange, N. J., Friday evening, Dec. 15, 1899, at 8 o'clock. Reports of Committees will be received and the election of officers for the ensuing year will take place. The meeting was postponed from Dec. 6.

Edward D. Duffield, Princeton '92, of South Orange, N. J., will be present as the representative of Princeton.

The annual dinner of the Association will probably be held early in January.

Ninety-Six Triennial Record.

The Triennial Record of the Class of Ninety-Six will be published next week and a copy sent to every member of the Class. The record is a very complete one in all particulars, having a stenographic report of the business meeting last June, J. K. Berry's cup speech, the response of H. E. Hawkes, and a well-told story of the whole triennial celebration by C. S. Day, Jr. The frontispiece is a picture of the Class on the steps of Osborn Hall. There is besides in the Record the names of the members with their home and business addresses. The book concludes with a statement of all the Ninety-Six men who were in the service of the United States during the Spanish war. In each copy of the Record is enclosed a circular drawn up by the Committee which was appointed to take action in regard to a memorial for Gerald M. Ives, who died from fever contracted while waiting at Tampa. The circular is to learn what the wishes of the Class are about a memorial.

YALE OBITUARIES.

HENRY C. HALLOWELL, '52.

Henry C. Hallowell, '52, died at Sandy Springs, Md., August 11, 1899, after an illness of two weeks. He was 70 years of age.

Henry C. Hallowell was born in Alexandria, Va., June 16, 1829 and after graduation from Yale spent three years in teaching. After a rest and a trip to Europe he took up his residence at Sandy Springs, Montgomery Co., Md., 18 miles from Washington, devoting much of his life to farming, though from 1878 to 1892 he conducted a school for girls in connection with his farm. A wife and eight children survive him.

In a memorial sketch of the late Mr. Hallowell read at a meeting of the Farmers' Club of Sandy Springs, shortly after his death, the following tribute was paid him: "With a liberal education and a kind and loving heart, with which nature had blessed him, he was equipped for a career that brought him honor, confidence and respect from his fellow-men in all the duties and responsibilities he assumed or that were placed upon him."

JUDGE MARCUS LYON, '52.

Judge Marcus Lyon, '52, of Ithaca, N. Y., died at the Sanitarium at Owego, September 18, 1899. He had been an invalid for several years.

Judge Lyon, son of Moses and Laura Lyon, was born at Genoa, Cayuga County, N. Y., September 23, 1827, entering Yale in 1848. By tutoring and teaching in neighboring academies, he paid the greater part of his way through College. In 1852 he began teaching Latin and Mathematics in the Ithaca Academy, studying Law at the same time. Admitted to the Bar in 1854, the next year he was appointed District Attorney of Schuyler County, and was later School Commissioner of Tompkins County. For eight years he served as District Attorney of Tompkins County. In 1872 he was appointed County Judge and Surrogate for Tompkins County, which office he held for twenty years. Judge Lyon was attorney for a number of railroads, was a member of the Board of Education for twelve years, a Trustee of the First Congregational Church, a thirty-second degree Mason and Commander of the St. Augustine Commandery for a number of years.

In 1885, he was married to Miss Susan Schuyler, daughter of Philip Schuyler. They had five children, three of whom survive their father.

JUDGE ELEAZAR K. FOSTER, '63.

Judge Eleazar Kingsbury Foster, '63, died at the New Haven Hospital, Friday evening, December 8, from the effects of an amputation of a leg less than a week ago.

Judge Foster, the son of Eleazar K. Foster, '34, was born in New Haven, Conn., October 31, 1841, and prepared for Yale at the Collegiate and Commercial Institute. Studying Law during the Winter of 1864, he was admitted to the Bar at New Haven in the Spring of 1865. During his entire life, after graduation, Judge Foster was afflicted with ill health, which caused frequent changes in residence and occupation. St. Augustine, Jacksonville, Sanford and Tallahassee, have in turn been his home. At first engaged as Collector of the port of St. Augustine, in 1868, he was appointed State's Attorney for the Fourth Judicial Circuit of Florida. Resuming the practice of Law in Jacksonville in 1871, he was later appointed Superintendent of Public Instruction in the Cabinet of Governor Bloxham of Florida. In 1885 he was appointed Judge of the Circuit Court for the Seventh Judicial District of Florida. Judge Foster has served about ten years as attorney for several of the railroads belonging to the Plant System.

Judge Foster was married, November 19, 1874, to Miss Mary G. Benedict of St. Augustine. He is survived by a widow and three children, and by two brothers, Dr. John P. C. Foster, '69, of New Haven and Edward Foster of Buffalo, N. Y.

DANIEL AGNEW MOORE, '86.

Daniel Agnew Moore, '86, died at his home in Pittsburg, Pa., Tuesday evening, Nov. 14, of blood poisoning. In order to secure a complete record, an obituary notice is deferred until next week.
