Literary Magazine Elections.

The Junior Class held a meeting Wednesday evening, February 21, in Osborn Hall, and elected these men to the Yale Literary Magazine Board: Ranulph Kingsley, New Rochelle, N. Y.; Ray Morris, New Haven, Conn.; William Gerald Dare Morgan, New York City; Oliver Martin Wiard, New Britain, Conn.; Paul Titus Gilbert, New Haven, Conn. The chairman will not be elected until the first week in March.

Princeton's Alumni Paper.

The Alumni Princetonian, founded about six years ago by the Daily Princetonian, and since that time conducted by a board appointed by that paper, will, beginning about April 1st, be placed in the hands of a stock company, capitalized at $10,000, and to be known as the Princeton Publishing Company. This action was decided upon at a recent meeting of Princeton graduates at Princeton, who were interested in the paper and who desired to put it on a firmer basis and give it a wider scope for the good of the University. The stock has been divided into 1,000 shares with a par value of ten dollars a share, non-assessable, and it will be taken, it is hoped, entirely by graduates and undergraduates. The company will be controlled by a board of directors and the policy of the paper will be under the supervision of an executive committee of five graduates, three to be chosen from the board of directors, the other two being the president and treasurer of the Princeton Publishing Co., ex-officio. Mr. Jesse Lynch Williams, a graduate of the Class of 1892, author of "Princeton Stories," has been engaged as Graduate Editor and has accepted the position. He will be assisted by several undergraduate editors whose manner of election has not yet been planned. The publication day will probably be fixed as Wednesday.

Pacific Coast Club.

The Pacific Coast Club, made up of men as the name implies, whose homes are on the Pacific Coast, held a meeting Feb. 1 and elected these officers to have charge of the Club for next year: President, J. S. Eells, 1901, Ross Station, Cal.; Secretary and Treasurer, W. P. Scott, 1901, San Francisco, Cal.; Executive Committee, J. S. Eells, C. R. Page, 1900, San Francisco; A. I. Kittle, Ross, Cal. The annual banquet was held Monday night, Feb. 19.

American School at Rome.

An appeal has been made by Professor Andrew F. West of Princeton, who is Chairman of the Endowment Committee of the American School at Rome, for a preliminary endowment of $100,000 and a suitable building to carry on the work, for which latter $30,000 has already been contributed. Professor West estimates that at least $500,000 is needed to put the American School on a footing with the best school established by other countries in Rome.

Long Island Officers.

Previous to the dinner of the Long Island Yale Alumni Association, held in Brooklyn recently, these officers were elected: President, J. K. Creevey, '66; Vice-President, Alexander Cameron, '69; Secretary, Hampton Powell, '93 S.; Treasurer, Wyllys Terry, '85; Executive Committee, William H. Ford, '77; M. S. Adler, '82; F. J. Egleston Mineralogical Museum

The trustees of Columbia University recently voted that the museum of the Department of Mineralogy be known hereafter as the Egleston Mineralogical Museum in recognition of the gift of a collection of minerals by the late Professor Thomas Egleston, Yale, '54, who was for many years Professor of Mineralogy at that University.

A very interesting series of pictures will be sent to the Paris Exposition by Harvard University, which will represent the college athlete in all branches of amateur sport. The list includes snap-shots of the Harvard-Brown football game; of a Princeton baseball game at Holmes Field; of the crews at practice, both on the river and in the tank; of the track men in training for their special events, and finally some general views of the different athletic buildings.

A Camera Club is shortly to be organized at Yale, which will be represented at the Intercollegiate Photography Competition held in the Spring. Harvard, Princeton and Brown will be the other competitors.
