

YALE ALUMNI NOTES.

Please report concerning yourself, facts which should be recorded in this column. Make report, also, about Yale men you know, and on matters, proper for record here, concerning which you have definite record. This will make the page of the greatest possible value. On request the Alumni Weekly will be glad to send postals to those who are in the way of getting, more or less often, Yale news and Yale personals.

'51—John W. Hendrie of Sound Beach, Conn., has offered to pay one-tenth of the cost of a new school for that place, and one-tenth for a new Mason's building in Stamford, Conn.

'53—Mr. E. C. Stedman will publish in the Spring a new book, "American Anthology."

'60—Prof. D. Cady Eaton left for Europe this week to be gone two or three months. He will go directly to Berlin, and will devote himself principally to securing material and photographs for a lecture on the Hohenzollern family.

'61—Judge Simeon E. Baldwin read a paper before the Historical Society of Hartford last Tuesday evening on "The American Jurisdiction of the Bishop of London in Our Colonial Era."

'91—Dr. E. W. Danner has resigned his position as Surgeon for the C. B. & Q. Railroad at Burlington, Iowa, to engage in the practice of medicine at 141 West 74th St., New York City.

'91 S.—John D. Shattuck, C.E., is now manager of the Philadelphia Suburban Gas Co., a corporation which under his management has obtained some dozen franchises from suburbs of Philadelphia, lying southwest of the city, and is engaged in supplying gas to these towns from a central gas plant at Darby, Penn. Mr. Shattuck has continued the experiment he commenced as engineer of distribution at Long Branch, New Jersey, in 1896, in sending gas to distances under pressure, and in spite of the adverse opinion of gas experts has demonstrated that illuminating gas can be transmitted under pressure as high as forty pounds to the square inch without injuriously affecting the candle power. This discovery, with the methods involved by Mr. Shattuck, opens a large field for supplying small towns from distant centers, where previously the lack of great numbers of consumers would not warrant the laying of the required large main supply pipe; for a pipe of given size will now supply very many more users than ever before with the low pressures of one or two ounces in vogue.

'92—Harry Graves has been put in charge of the new Forestry School at Yale.

'92—Frank T. Winslow is investigating and assisting trial attorney for the Fidelity & Casualty Co. of New York, in the Chicago office.

'93 Ph.D.—Prof. Edward F. Buchner lectured on "Education as a Scientific Pursuit," at the School of Pedagogy, New York University, March 12.

'94—A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Buell, February 8.

'94—Philip F. Rogers has an article on "Osteopathy and the Law" in the New York Medical Record of February.

'94—Arthur G. Dickson has given up his work as a Fellow of the Law Department of the University of Pennsylvania and entered the law office of Hon. W. U. Hensel of Lancaster, Pa.

'94—William H. Sallmon, who for the past three years has been the traveling secretary for the Australian Student Union, with headquarters at Sydney, Australia, has resigned his position and is returning to the United States, visiting on the way the Colleges of the Levant. He left Australia, March 6, en route for America. He will visit schools and colleges in Egypt, Palestine, Turkey and Bulgaria, and expects to reach New York in September. Mr. Sallmon's post office address now is 3 West 29th St., New York.

'95—A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. T. M. DeBevoise, December 14.

'95—Augustus S. Peabody is in the law department of Peabody, Houghteling & Co., Chicago.

'96—Harry A. Spalding has opened an office for the general practice of law in Philadelphia.

'96—C. F. Mackey has taken charge of a fruit district of the Fay Fruit Co., whose headquarters are at Los Angeles, Cal.

'97—Robert S. Brewster expects to sail for Europe in April, to be gone some months.

'97 S.—Robert Crawford Jeffcott, who was married, December 16, 1899 to Miss Florence Esther Lux, of Clyde, N. Y., is now located with his wife in Sydney, Australia, where he takes charge of the interests of the General Electric Co. of Schenectady, N. Y. His address is P. O. Box 1620, Sydney, N. S. W., Australia.

'97 L.S.—The wedding of Harry W. Griffith and Miss Jessie Holliday Bird will take place March 14, at the Second Presbyterian Church at Indianapolis.

'99 S.—Albert J. Osgood has resigned his position as Instructor in the Alinda College Preparatory School, Pittsburg, Pa., and will shortly sail for Shanghai, China, where he will be connected with the Branch House of the New York Export and Import Co.

YALE NOTICES.

[Class and Association Secretaries are invited to contribute to this column.]

Eighty-Five.

There will be a reunion of those members of the Class of Eighty-Five who are in and near New York, at the Yale Club, 17 Madison Square North, on Friday, March 23, at 7 o'clock.

Plans for our Quin-decennial will be discussed, and a large attendance will insure a good start for June.

Price of dinner will be $3.00, which please remit to Emil Schultze, Jr., 141 Broadway.

An early reply will be considered a favor. There will be no further notice.

WILBUR L. CROSS,
JOSEPH A. BLAKE,
EMILE SCHULTZE, JR.
Committee.

Ninety-Five Reunion.

There will be a Ninety-Five dinner at the Yale Club, Saturday, March 17, at 7.00. Every Ninety-Five man in New York or its vicinity, whether a member of the Yale Club or not, is cordially invited to be present. Two dollars, which will cover all, may be sent to me, or paid in person the evening of the 17th to a member of the Reunion Committee. Please inform me at your earliest convenience, whether or not we may count upon your presence. Show up and make the affair a "go!"

17 East 26th St., New York City.
For the Committee.

Ninety-Seven Dinner.

The second annual dinner of Ninety-Seven men living in and around New York City will be given at the Yale Club, 17 East 26th Street, on Saturday evening, March 31, 1900, at 7 o'clock. It is perhaps, unnecessary to say that all members of the Class are invited to attend, whether or not they have as yet joined the Club. The dinner has been fixed for Saturday evening, as being most convenient for the majority of men living in the city, and also in the hope that a large number from out of town will be able to be present.

Owing to the difficulty of obtaining a list of addresses corrected to date, it is possible that some members of the Class may fail to receive a copy of this notice. The committee therefore requests everyone who does receive this announcement to do his best personally to see that the news reaches every Ninety-Seven man living within reach of New York.

The cost of the dinner will be, as last year, two dollars ($2) per cover. In order to facilitate the work of the Committee, members of the Class are urged to reply promptly, remitting $2 in case they expect to attend the dinner. Checks or money orders should be made payable to the order of "The Yale Club." Those who may for any reason be unable to come to the dinner are asked to acknowledge the receipt of this notice, in order that the Committee may be sure that none of its announcements have been lost in the mail. In replying, members of the Class are asked to give their present addresses in full, for the convenience of the Committee or of others desiring to call Class meetings in the future.

Address,
Ninety-Seven Dinner Committee,
Yale Club,
17 East 26th Street,
New York City.

Changed Notice of Ninety-Nine Dinner.

The first annual Ninety-Nine dinner is to be held at the Yale Club, No. 17 East 26th Street, New York, on Saturday, March 24. Do not miss the opportunity to attend the first large gathering of Ninety-Nine men since graduation. The syndicate composing the committee begs to announce that S. M. Hawley, 17 East 26th Street, New York, is authorized to sell shares in the game at two dollars per. An early reply is requested. Every Ninety-Nine man is invited. Personal notice will be sent only to those living in and near New York City.

Committee, E. T. Noble, S. M. Hawley, E. S. Parmelee, W. H. Field.

The Eighty-Two Dinner.

The Eighty-Two dinner, held at New York March 2, at the Yale Club, was a great success. Thirty-three men attended as follows:

Baltz, Bate, Billings, Brinton, Brockway, Case, Colgate, Cragin, Dillingham, Ely, Eno, French, Foot, Hawkes, Kellogg, Knapp, Lewis, Lyman, McBride, O'Hanlon, Palmer, Parsons, Pember, Platt, Rice, Schuyler, Silver, Smith, Stillman, Welch, Welles, Wells, Williams.

Responses in the form of letter or otherwise, were received from 39 others: Allen, Brewster, Badger, Beech, Corey, Dickenson, Foster, Atterbury, Dow, Storrs, Graves, Bentley, Farwell, Kinley, Loomis, Moody, Pratt, Barbour, Richardson, Camp, Haskell, Bishop, Abbott, Shipley, Boltwood, Silver, Hebbard, Osborne, Jefferds, Bruce, Scudder, Page, Rossiter, Wight, Tiche, Park, Morris, Clement, Sweetser.

Col. H. L. Williams was the guest of honor, and gave a very interesting talk on his experience in connection with the Cuban war.

Eloquent speeches were made by: Platt, French, Colgate, Lyman, Eno, McBride, and others.

Knapp as toastmaster made a great record. It was decided to have a similar dinner next year at about the same time.

Correction.

In the obituary notice of the late Frank Van Dyke Andrews, '76, which appeared in a recent issue of the WEEKLY, the school which prepared Mr. Andrews for Yale was given as the Phillips Exeter Academy. He entered the College from Williston Seminary, Easthampton, Conn., having spent only a short time at Exeter.

Varioloid Patient Improving.

G. W. Perkins, 1902 S., who is ill with varioloid at 409 Temple Street, is improving steadily and the acute symptoms and fever have subsided. It is stated that his recovery will be rapid from now on. No new cases have appeared and it is believed there is no danger of the disease spreading owing to the prompt measures taken by the University officers.

ORANGE DINNER.

It was the Largest Yale Gathering Ever Held in New Jersey.

The seventeenth annual dinner of the Yale Alumni Association of Essex County, New Jersey, was held in Upper Music Hall, Orange, Thursday evening, March 1, and was the largest Yale gathering ever held in the State.

The room presented a beautiful appearance. Along the freize were rosettes formed of American flags. From the flags to the center of the room extended long blue streamers which were there held in place by a large Japanese umbrella. The wall opposite the entrance was almost hidden by a mass of Yale flags.

At seven those present assembled in the hall of the New England Society. Then each man placed his hands on the shoulders of the man in front of him, and all marched to the dinner singing "Omega, Lambda, Chi."

Universal Athletics.

That is the goal and—it is pleasant to say—the present tendency of the changes in athletic policy in the great universities. Over four hundred men were on the water at one time last season at Harvard. To-day the streets of New Haven are fairly alive with athletes on their runs. It's fine. One of the incidental results of Universal Athletics is to more thoroughly acquaint every university and college man with the name of
