Class of Ninety-Four.

The sixth anniversary of the graduation from Yale, of the Class of Ninety-Four Academic, will be celebrated at New Haven at the Commencement next June. Arrangements are being made by the Sexennial Committee and printed circulars giving full details will shortly be mailed to all the members of the Class.

York City will be given at the Yale Club, 17 East 26th Street, on Saturday evening, March 31, 1900, at 7 o'clock. It is perhaps, unnecessary to say that all members of the Class are invited to attend, whether or not they have as yet joined the Club. The dinner has been fixed for Saturday evening, as being most convenient for the majority of men living in the city, and also in the hope that a large number from out of town will be able to be present.

Owing to the difficulty of obtaining a list of addresses corrected to date, it is possible that some members of the Class may fail to receive a copy of this notice. The committee therefore requests everyone who does receive this announcement to do his best personally to see that the news reaches every Ninety-Seven man living within reach of New York.

The cost of the dinner will be, as last year, two dollars ($2) per cover. In order to facilitate the work of the Committee, members of the Class are urged to reply promptly, remitting $2 in case they expect to attend the dinner. Checks or money orders should be made payable to the order of "The Yale Club." Those who may for any reason be unable to come to the dinner are asked to acknowledge the receipt of this notice, in order that the Committee may be sure that none of its announcements have been lost in the mail. In replying, members of the Class are asked to give their present addresses in full, for the convenience of the Committee or of others desiring to call Class meetings in the future.

Address,
Ninety-Seven Dinner Committee,
Yale Club,

New York City.

Ninety-Eight Dinner.

The Class of Ninety-Eight will hold its second annual dinner at the Yale Club, No. 17 Madison Square North, New York City, at 7.30 o'clock on Saturday evening, April 7th. Every man in '98 is cordially invited. All who expect to attend should send word to Frank H. Simmons, No. 190 New York Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., before March 31st, enclosing $2.00. It has not been possible to send postal card announcement of the dinner to all, so tell every '98 man about it that you meet and bring him along. It will be a good game.

Ninety-Nine Dinner.

The first annual Ninety-Nine dinner is to be held at the Yale Club, No. 17 East 26th Street, New York, on Saturday, March 24. Do not miss the opportunity to attend the first large gathering of Ninety-Nine men since graduation. The syndicate composing the committee begs to announce that S. M. Hawley, 17 East 26th Street, New York, is authorized to sell shares in the game at two dollars per. An early reply is requested. Every Ninety-Nine man is invited. Personal notice will be sent only to those living in and near New York City.

Committee, E. T. Noble, S. M. Hawley, E. S. Parmelee, W. H. Field.

YALE OBITUARIES.

THE LATE WILLIAM WATSON, '29.

William Watson, '29, a notice of whose death in New York, Wednesday, February 28, has already appeared in the WEEKLY, was born in Hartford, Conn., in 1809. After graduation he studied law with Judge Gould at Litchfield, Conn. for a year, and in the office of General James Tallmadge in New York. He was admitted to the New York bar in 1833 and practiced law in New York City uninterruptedly more than sixty years. From 1842 to 1845 he was Assistant United States District Attorney. He was for many years a member of the Bar Association, but on his retirement from active duties five years ago, resigned. A daughter, Mrs. Mason A. Stone, survives him.

JUDGE JULIUS M. RUSSELL, '68.

Judge Julius M. Russell, '68, died at his home in Burlington, Vt., Sunday, February 25. His death was due directly to hemorrhages induced by typhoid fever.

Julius M. Russell was born September 1, 1846, at Moira, N. Y., and prepared for College at Cazenovia, N. Y., taking his Freshman and Sophomore years at Wesleyan and his Junior and Senior years at Yale. After graduation he taught school for a year at Hinesburgh, Vt., and then entering the Columbia Law School he studied for two years. In 1871 he was admitted to the Vermont bar, and formed a partnership with Mr. Washburn for the practice of law. Three years later the partnership was dissolved and Judge Russell took up the work alone, making a specialty of Commercial Law, with his office at Burlington. Judge Russell was State's Attorney for Chittenden County from 1882 to 1884; City Attorney of Burlington from 1889 to 1891, and a Justice of the Peace for twelve years. A wife and two children survive him.

S. W. F. ANDREWS, '75 L.S.

S. W. F. Andrews, '75 L.S., died Sunday, March 4, at his home in East Haven, Conn., of erysipelas, induced by a cancer. He was born in East Haven fifty-six years ago and had his home in that place almost his entire life. After graduation from the Law School he practiced his profession until about ten years ago, when he gave up that work and opened a store in connection with the postoffice in East Haven, of which he was postmaster until very recently. Mr. Andrews is survived by a wife, four sons and a daughter.

GERARD M. EDWARDS, '79.

Gerard M. Edwards, '79, died at Nice, France, Thursday, March 1, after a brief illness.

Mr. Edwards was born in New York City, Jan. 1, 1856, and prepared partially at St. Paul's School, Concord, and partially at the Princeton Preparatory School. Since graduation he spent most of his time traveling, with the exception of about two years spent in studying law at the Columbia Law School. He was always an enthusiastic yachtsman and at the time of his death was a member of the New York, Larchmont, Seawanhaka, Corinthian and Calumet Yacht Clubs. He was unmarried.

Mr. Ryder always took a great interest in athletics, being especially fond of tennis and hockey. He was a member of the Yale Hockey team during his last two years in College, and won a place as a good tennis player. After leaving College, he became a member of the hockey team of the New Jersey Athletic Club, and played with them during one Winter. He has won many prizes in tennis and a few in golf. He was holding for the second year the championship tennis cup of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club of Plainfield.

He was modest in manner, and his fine character made for him many warm friends.

Two brothers are graduates of Yale, one in the Class of Ninety-One and the other in the Class of Ninety-Four. A mother and sister also survive him.
