

YALE OBITUARIES.

STUART HOLT, '99.

Stuart Holt, '99, died Friday, March 9, of peritonitis following an attack of appendicitis, twenty-four hours after he was operated on for the latter disease, and forty-eight hours from the time he was first taken ill. He was apparently in perfect health when he was taken ill. In his Senior year he had had a slight attack of what was probably appendicitis, from which he quickly recovered.

Mr. Holt was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., September 5, 1876, and was the second son of George C. Holt, Yale '66, and Mary Bowen Holt. The family soon moved to Spuyten Duyvil, N. Y., where he lived until he was seventeen years old. He was educated in the public schools and then for two years attended the Columbia Grammar School of New York City. Then he went to Woodstock, (Conn.) Academy, where he spent the last two years of his school life before entering Yale.

Last Summer he spent at the summer home of his family in Woodstock, Conn., and in the Autumn entered the office of the Independent, where he worked in the publishing and subscription department, besides doing some editorial work in connection with the book reviews. He had a decided taste and ability for literary work and had hoped for a career on the Independent.

Five of his uncles and a brother in '94 were graduates of Yale and he has a brother in the present Freshman Academic Class.

At a meeting held in Dwight Hall, March 15, of the members of the Class of Ninety-Nine now in New Haven, the following resolutions were adopted:

"Whereas, God, in His wisdom, has taken from us our beloved friend and classmate, Stuart Holt, and

"Whereas, We, his classmates, feel that in his death we have suffered a deep personal loss; therefore, be it

"Resolved, That we express our appreciation of his lovable character, sincerity and quiet manliness; and that we extend our deepest sympathy to his family in their bereavement; and be it further

"Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to his family and published in the Yale papers.

"For the Class, Henry Killam Murphy, Charles Root Fowler, Lucius Pomeroy Fuller."

DANIEL P. DOOHAN, '99 S.

Daniel P. Doohan, '99 S., died of consumption at his home in New Haven, Friday, March 16.

Mr. Doohan was born in New Haven, September 10, 1878, and prepared for Yale at the Hillhouse High School. Soon after graduation, consumption, with which he had been threatened during his course in the Scientific School, began to develop and he went to Colorado to seek relief. He returned home three weeks ago without hope of recovery.

CALVIN MCCORMICK, P.G.

Calvin McCormick, a graduate of Franklin College, Ind., who spent the year 1880-81 in special post-graduate study in Qualitative Chemical Analysis in the Sheffield Scientific School, died at Baker City, Oregon, Monday, Feb. 26. He had been working in the Klondike as assayer for the Mattoon Security Mining and Investment Co., and contracted a cold which developed into pneumonia. Mr. McCormick was 40 years old. He leaves a wife.

The Late Prof. E. J. Phelps.

The funeral of the late Prof. E. J. Phelps was held at his old home in Burlington, Vt., Monday, March 12. The burial service of the Episcopal Church was conducted by Bishop A. C. A. Hall. Yale was represented by Francis Wayland, Dean of the Law School and Prof. A. M. Wheeler, and the State of Vermont by Governor E. C. Smith, Yale '75, with his entire staff. Both Middlebury College and the University of Vermont were represented by their presidents and many members of the faculties. The bearers were: General John J. McCullough, Bennington, Vt.; Col. L. G. B. Cannon, New York; Hon. B. F. Fifield, Montpelier; President Buckingham of the University of Vermont; Prof. H. P. Torrey, of the University of Vermont; Mayor Roberts of Burlington, and Col. Smalley and John A. Arthur of Burlington. Interment was in Green Mountain Cemetery.

The contract for publishing the Yale Banner for next year has been awarded to Ray Morris, 1901, of New Haven, and Lloyd D. Waddell, 1901 S. of Parsippany, N. J.

Personal Mention.

The last word from Professor Ladd was from Madras, where he was delivering the last series of his course of lectures on the Philosophy of Religion. The hot climate had almost brought on an illness, but at this date he is probably in Egypt. He leaves a very favorable impression and an increased admiration for American scholarship.

Universal Athletics.

That is the goal and—it is pleasant to say—the present tendency of the changes in athletic policy in the great universities. Over four hundred men were on the water at one time last season at Harvard. To-day the streets of New Haven are fairly alive with athletes on their runs. It's fine. One of the incidental results of Universal Athletics is to more thoroughly acquaint every university and college man with the name of
