

YALE OBITUARIES.

A letter written by Mayo in 1892, for the fortieth anniversary of his graduation, from which most of his war history is taken, closes thus: "Although I fought on the side of the South, I yield to no man in my attachment to our common country, and I fervently thank our Heavenly Father for the failure of the cause which, as a Virginian, I so earnestly espoused; for I now firmly believe its success would have been attended with the most deplorable results."

After the war he engaged in business at Richmond. In 1888 he was appointed a clerk in the State Department at Washington, and was soon promoted to be translator. He is reported to have been able to read and write eleven languages, viz.: French, German, Italian, Spanish, Portuguese, Danish, Swedish, Norwegian, Greek, Latin and Hebrew, and to have spoken with fluency the Continental languages. In June, 1895, at sixty-one years of age, he finished a three years' course at the Columbia University Law School, and was admitted to the bar of the District of Columbia.

In 1870 Mr. Mayo married Ellen, daughter of Gen. Henry A. Wise, ex-Governor of Virginia, who, with a son and four daughters, survives him. The son, Henry Wise Mayo, graduated at the Law Department of the University of Virginia, and is now a member of the bar of New York City.

FRANK HENRY HOOKER, '64.

Frank Henry Hooker, '64, died suddenly of apoplexy Saturday morning, April 14, at his home in New Haven. He had retired to his room Friday night, in apparently perfect health, having just completed arrangements for a trip to California with several friends. When he did not appear at breakfast his son went to his room and found him dead.

Mr. Hooker was born in New Haven, Jan. 11, 1843, and prepared for College at Hopkins Grammar School. After graduation he went to St. Louis, Mo., where he was in business for a time, but in 1873 returned to New Haven to become Treasurer of the Henry Hooker Company. He held this position at the time of his death and was besides a Director in the National Tradesmen's Bank, in the Winchester Repeating Arms Company, the United Illuminating Company, Treasurer of the Hygeia Ice Company, a Trustee of the New Haven Savings Bank and a Vestryman in Trinity Church. He was a member of the Quinipiac, Country and Ansantawae Clubs and while in College was in Linonia, the Varuna Boat Club and D.K.E.

Mr. Hooker was married to Miss Grace Russell, who died several years ago. Three children are living, Clarence R., Elizabeth R. and Donald R. The latter graduated from the Academic Department of Yale in 1899.

S. B. S. BISSELL, '94.

S. B. S. Bissell, '94, died of consumption at his father's home in New York, 68 West 86th St., Sunday, April 15.

CORPORAL JOSEPH W. ALPORT, '97.

Corporal Joseph William Alport, '97, of Buffalo, N. Y., who was wounded in a skirmish with the Philipinos, at Matuguine, early in March, died from his wounds March 18.

Mr. Alport was born in St. Louis, Mo., August 30, 1875, and after graduation from Yale, entered the University of Buffalo Law School. When the Spanish War began he was appointed and warranted First Sergeant, Company L, 65th Regiment, New York Volunteers, and mustered into the service of the United States, as such, May 17. He did not get an opportunity to go the front, however, and when he was mustered out, Nov. 19, 1898, he at once re-enlisted with the 43d United States Volunteers and went to the Philippines. He was a Corporal in the service at the time of his death.

ARTHUR WAYLAND LOVELL, EX-'99.

Arthur Wayland Lovell, ex-'99, who died Saturday evening, April 7, of consumption, at Los Angeles, was born in New Haven twenty years ago, and prepared for College at the Hillhouse High School. He entered Yale with the Class of Ninety-Nine, but on account of failing health did not finish his course, leaving in his Senior year to try the less severe climate of Southern California. His health grew steadily worse, however, and a severe cold which he had contracted hastened the end.
