YALE NOTICES.

[Class and Association Secretaries are invited to contribute to this column.]

Eighty-Five Quin-Decennial Reunion.

The celebration of the 15th anniversary of our graduation will be held in New Haven at Commencement in June of this year. The regular business meeting will be called to order in C Osborn Hall, at noon on Tuesday, June 26th.

Sheff. business meeting June 26th, 11 A. M., North Sheffield Hall.

The ball game with Harvard takes place on Tuesday, June 26th, and a special car for the Class and band has been procured to leave the New Haven House at one o'clock. After the game we meet in front of Osborn Hall (old fence corner), at six o'clock, for the purpose of paying our respects in a body to the new and to the old President; after which, the Class dinner will be served in the Anderson Gymnasium, 307 York Street, at seven o'clock.

The boat races will be rowed at New London on Thursday, June 28th. The round trip fare from New Haven to New London will be $1.75, and if fifty signify their intention to go, we can obtain a special car from New Haven up and back. Tickets for the boat race, (seats on observation train), $2.50.

Rooms may be obtained in West Divinity Hall on direct application to E. F. Hill, 108 College Street. The price is $1.00 a night, but no room will be rented for less than two nights, so that one night only will cost $2.00. Application should be made at once.

FRANK A. LORD of Yale Debating Team.

Your Committee earnestly requests that each member of the Class who contemplates being present, will kindly remember that the price of the dinner tickets does not fully cover all the necessary expenses, but that it has always been and now is necessary to raise an extra fund. Your Committee has fixed the amount to be paid by every one attending the celebration at six dollars. As in the past, a style of entertainment has been planned, including a band, admission and reserved section for the Class at the ball game, cigars and extras at the dinner, etc., beyond this expense of six dollars per capita. To meet this an extra fund must be raised and each one is invited to add a subscription to this to his remittance of six dollars. It is hoped that the contribution to this fund will be liberal. As a portion of the expenses to be defrayed at this time, such as for printing, postage, stationery, etc., are incurred for the benefit of the whole class and not confined to the use of those attending the celebration, it is requested that those members who are unable to be present, remit two dollars to the Committee to be used for general Class purposes.

It is also most earnestly urged upon each one who shall receive this notice to give it as prompt a reply as possible, so that the Committee may be saved

Yale Theological Alumni at Boston.

At the meeting of the Congregational International Council at Boston last Fall, an alumni association of the Yale Theological School graduates of Boston and vicinity was organized with Rev. E. M. Noyes, Yale '79, and '82 T.S., as President, and Rev. A. P. Davis, '93 T.S., as Secretary. The first annual meeting and banquet was held at the American House, Boston, April 30, Rev. C. L. Morgan, D.D., '75 T.S., presiding. Professor L. O. Brastow was the special guest. A long and earnest discussion followed Professor Brastow's address on the present condition and needs of the Theological School, and was participated in by Rev. H. S. Bush, '91 T.S.; Dr. C. S. Macfarland, '97 T.S., recently instructor in Biblical Literature; Rev. C. S. Haynes, Hooker Fellow of '04 T.S.; Rev. A. W. Hitchcock, '89 T.S., and Rev. D. H. Evans, '97 T.S. The oldest Yale alumnus present was Rev. N. H. Egleston, '40.

General approval was expressed of the recent changes in the granting of scholarships and in the enlarging of the curriculum. The Boston Association numbers nearly seventy members. Rev. C. L. Morgan, D.D., '75 T.S., was elected President and Rev. A. P. Davis, '93 T.S., Secretary.

Portland University Club.

The University Club of Portland, Oregon, has taken permanent quarters. It was organized as a result of a movement begun at a smoker given by the Yale Alumni Association of Portland, January 22, 1898, at the Portland Hotel. It has given occasional dinners, but has had until this Spring no permanent quarters. It has now, however, secured a room on the corner of Sixth and Alder Streets and held a house warming on Saturday evening, April 28.

The membership of the Club is now about ninety, of whom more than twenty are Yale men. The prospects for an increase of membership are good, and those interested are confident of the club's success.

The Council consists of the following men: Wm. L. Brewster, Amherst '88; Hon. Alfred F. Sears, Dartmouth '75; C. A. W. Shock, Annapolis '83; E. F. Tucker, Harvard '84; M. W. Smith, Pacific University '78; N. E. Ayer, '86 S., and H. F. Canner, '93 S.

Prof. Lounsbury Recovering.

Professor Thomas R. Lounsbury, Yale '59, has so far improved from the abscesses in his ears, by which he has been kept from his duties for more than a month, that he has gone to Washington, were he will spend several weeks. He will not take up his classes before next Fall.

At a mass meeting of students of Princeton, April 25, Francis Jordan Hall, 1901, of Harrisburg, Pa., was elected Manager of the Baseball Team, and James Walker Lameson, 1901, was elected Manager of the Track Team for next year.

Cornell has decided to send a team, of not more than seven men, to the Olympian Games at the Paris Exposition, this Summer. The expenses of the trip will be borne by the alumni of the University.
