

The removal of the WEEKLY offices was a physical necessity. While no definite arrangements have been made as to editorial assistance for next year, this paper hopes to remain in close relations with the Yale Daily News, which established it, and whose officers and editors have always coöperated so well in its upbuilding, and with its constituency, who make up the active membership of Yale. This relation has been most satisfactorily maintained this year by the News Editor of the WEEKLY, Mr. Preston Kumler, 1900.

YALE BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES.

A notice of interest to Yale men in business and Yale men planning to go into business is printed in our notice column this week. It is from the Committee on Business Information of the Yale Club of New York. It explains itself. The undertaking is a very meritorious one and the way in which its projectors are going at it indicates their reasonableness and insures confidence. They do not make any promises and they do not intend to try to run an employment agency in the interests of Yale men. They are not recommending anybody. They know that often Yale men are looking for service such as a young college graduate could give, and that, at the same time, many recent Yale graduates are looking for a chance to give that service. No harm certainly can come from bringing the parties of possible supply and demand together, and in many cases it will undoubtedly result in much benefit.

CHEERING AND BANDS AT COMMENCEMENT GAME.

The next great ball game at New Haven will be that on June 26 between Yale and Harvard. There will be thousands of Yale sympathizers at the game all very anxious to see Yale win. They will be supported by several brass bands. Brass bands with the reunion classes are very interesting features of reunion day exercises and are very acceptable on the march to and from the Field, and for very short selections when nothing is being done on the diamond.

The baseball management, and generally speaking, as we feel sure, the men of Yale, are extremely anxious that instrumental music should not be heard for even the shortest space of time while the play is going on next Tuesday. It is desired that the noise which Yale shall make that afternoon shall not in any way hinder the work and play of the opposing nine. It is also, we believe, the desire of all Yale men that the Yale cheering that day, which we hope will be strong and vigorous, shall not pass beyond the line of legitimate encouragement of the Yale players. Yale has, on the whole, of late made a good record in this line and it is particularly desirable at this time that the record should be improved rather than the standard should be in any way lowered.

SEND CHANGE OF ADDRESS.

We beg to intrude upon editorial space with a matter of business detail, and remind all the subscribers to the WEEKLY of the necessity of immediately informing us of changes of address. Please send such information as far in advance as possible, so that no copies of the WEEKLY may be omitted. We use the utmost care to keep our service prompt and regular, and appreciate the coöperation of our subscribers in that matter. Seniors just graduating are especially reminded of this necessity.

Particular attention is called to the notice in regard to the John A. Porter Prize essay subjects for 1901 which appears in this paper.
