

YALE ALUMNI NOTES.

'59—Professor A. W. Wright underwent an operation for appendicitis about the end of July. The operation was performed by Doctors B. Austin Cheney, '68, and Leonard C. Sanford, '90. The operation was successful and Prof. Wright is convalescing satisfactorily.

'60—Rev. C. H. Richards, D.D., of Philadelphia is spending the Summer with his family at Cliff Island, Maine.

'60—The Springfield Republican very highly commends the action of Harvard in giving the degree of Doctor of Laws to Justice Marcus P. Knowlton of the Massachusetts Supreme Court. It says there is "no abler and clearer mind on the bench and no Justice more scrupulously regardful of the rights of the people."

'61—Judge Simeon E. Baldwin was one of the speakers at the banquet in London, July 27, tendered by the Judges and lawyers of England to about fifty leaders of the American Bench and Bar.

'62—"The Constitution Follows the Flag," an address delivered by ex-Gov. Daniel H. Chamberlain at West Brookfield, Mass., May 30, has been printed in pamphlet form.

'65—There was an error in the obituary notice of the late Wilbur R. Bacon in the statement that he was connected with the firm of Bacon Brothers & Starr. He was not connected with this firm or with the firm of Bacon Brothers.

'67—The Trustees of the Brooklyn Institute Museum have given leave of absence to Professor William H. Goodyear, Curator of Fine Arts, in order that he may visit the Paris Exposition. Mr. Joseph Hawkes accompanied Professor Goodyear as photographer and slide colorist. Professor and Mrs. Goodyear and Mr. Hawkes sailed July 14 on the Hamburg-American "Pennsylvania." They will return by an Italian steamer leaving Naples, September 1.

'70—Early in May the student and co-workers of Professor W. H. Welch of Johns Hopkins, Yale '70, at a complimentary dinner held at the Maryland Club, Baltimore, presented him, in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of his doctorate, a volume of contributions to the science of medicine, containing thirty-eight papers, all embodying original research. The presentation was made by Professor W. T. Councilman, who said in part:

"On this occasion, twenty-five years after your entrance into the medical profession, we your students present to you this volume. It contains a number of articles written by us, each of which contributes to the advancement of medical knowledge. We have chosen this method to tell you of our esteem and affection, for we feel that it is the highest and most enduring tribute we could lay before you. For, unlike any tribute wrought in stone or metal, it has the quality of increase. The results of the investigations here set forth will stimulate further investigations and lead to still greater increase of knowledge. It is the work of men you have taught, who have come under your influence and who have received from you the inspiration which has enabled them, often amid great difficulties, to continue in the path along which you first led them. It is one thing to tell a man what is the right way; it is better still to show him; but it is quite another thing to take him by the hand and lead him along it. This you have done, and it is this which has made you the great teacher which you are, for a teacher to be great must be a leader among men."

'75—Edwin A. Hill of the U. S. Patent Office, Washington, D. C., has a paper in the August number of the Journal of the American Chemical Society on "A System of Indexing Chemical Literature, adopted by the Classification Division of the U. S. Patent Office." The paper was read last Spring before the Washington Section of the Society.

'78—Philip W. Moen has leased Ard-Darroch, Garelochhead, in Dumbartonshire, northern Scotland, for the Summer. The estate includes 12 miles of country, with a fully equipped residence and stables. The loch adjoining the place abounds in salmon, and a neighboring forest furnishes deer and game of all sorts. Mrs. Moen and the three children are with Mr. Moen.

'79—Lieut. Gov. T. L. Woodruff has returned from Europe after a short visit.

'87 S.—The article by Dr. Isadore Dyer, prepared for and presented at the International Conference for the Prevention of Syphilis and Venereal Diseases, held in Brussels, Belgium, September 4 to 8, 1899, has been recently printed in pamphlet form. An article by the same author on "The Philosophy of Living" has also been reprinted in pamphlet form from the St. Louis Courier of Medicine.

'88 S.—When the news reached Honolulu that the "Territorial Bill" for Hawaii had been signed by the President, the machinery was started to organize a Republican party. The prime movers were American politicians. A machine was started, it had its slate all cut and dried, and a strong effort was made to carry it through after the first meeting. Just as every thing was apparently falling into the hands of the machine, speeches were made by two or three men, one of whom was George R. Carter, Yale '88 S., which turned the tide of sentiment. The slate was broken, and the machine utterly routed in favor of good, clean politics. Since then a Civic Federation has been formed, and is just beginning to get into action for the purpose of seeing that politics in the Islands are kept clean, and for the general advancement and improvement of the country.

Under the new bill all the native Hawaiians are given right of franchise. If they should organize and demand that right, they would control the country as they are in the majority. It is a question now, "Who is going to have the greatest influence upon the natives?" So far most of them have held off, and not affiliated with either party. The whole question of politics to them, is a new one, as it is to a great many of the white people who have lived here all their lives, and a great deal of educating must be done to teach them the "A B C's" of politics and party.

President McKinley's appointment of Mr. Dole as Governor, is generally approved, and considered the best that could be made.
